Victoria Speedster Will Face Leading Empire Quarter-milers at White City Stadium, London, Tomorrow; Second in Semi-final Heat To-day

England's Stars Dominate Events

By THOMAS T. CHAMBERLAIN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

White City Stadium, London, Aug. 6.—Sylvanus Apps, Paris, Ont., youth who attends McMaster University at Hamilton, scored Canada's only track and field victory on the second day of the British Empire Games to-day. Apps won the pole vault at 13 feet 9 inches, breaking the empire record of Vic Rickard, Canada, by six inches.

While England continued her sweep of titles, Canada and South Africa slipped in firmly behind the Mother Country, piling up points in nearly every event. Sunny Gilbert, Hamilton, placed second to Apps, losing in a jump-off for the title after both had cleared 13 feet 6 inches.

Bob Rankine, Preston, Ont., staged a great duel with A. W. Penny of England in the six-mile run and took second to the Briton. Lloyd Longman, Toronto, Canada's runner-up, came in second, finishing last.

John Stride, Montreal, took second in the 100-yard dash final and also won the Canadian three-girl relay team that was second to England over the 440-yards route.

Admiral Sir R. Tyrwhitt Urges Ships Be Added to Present Force

Written for the Canadian Press
By W. Booth

Toronto, Aug. 6.—The sincere hope that Canada will consider increasing her present small naval force, not only for her own benefit, but in the interest of the empire at large, is held by the famous British admiral, Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt.

For the protection of the empire's sea routes, for protection of the empire's world sea trade routes, and for the maintenance of an effective blockade against an enemy in the event of another war, the British navy is not at present enough, he believes.

He hopes the admiralty will in the future decide to build an adequate number of additional cruisers actively to carry out this work. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

CRASH FATAL TO AVIATRIX

Mrs. Marsalis, Noted U.S. Woman Pilot, Dies on Way to Hospital

Associated Press
Dayton, Ohio, Aug. 6.—Apparently losing control of her light biplane at a low altitude when it was caught in the backwash of five other ships in a women's race, Mrs. Frances H. Marsalis, noted woman pilot, was killed as her machine crashed near here yesterday afternoon.

In her early thirties, Mrs. Marsalis was co-holder with Helen Richey of the women's endurance refueling record, established last December at Miami, Florida.

The garden City, L.I., aviatrix was rounding a pylon at the far end of a chief event of the day at the Dayton Municipal airport in nearby Xenia, when the crash occurred.

Mrs. Marsalis was thrown clear of the wreckage. She was lying when rescue crews reached her, not far from the wreckage, which caught fire. She died on the way to a hospital.

A fine new hotel of the Swiss chalet type will shortly rise on the site of the old Belvedere Hotel at Sooke, which was completely destroyed by fire on July 27 last.

Announcement of the reconstruction of the hotel is announced by its owners, through J. Graham Brown, local architect, who is preparing plans for the new structure. A new building will be erected by J. A. Robillard and his two sons, and J. A. Robillard, who acquired the Belvedere some years ago and is up a big hotel and tourist center at Sooke Harbor.

The site is unrivaled and will be used for the erection of the new hotel, it was stated.

The plans have been completed and as soon as they have been approved by the owners, the architect will call for tenders for the construction work.

TWO GENERATIONS PARADE 20 YEARS AFTER

The Federated Council of Youth and Veterans of the Great War, during the week-end observed the twentieth anniversary of the world conflict. Top picture shows Rev. G. D. Switzer, speaking at the Cenotaph from where 2,000 marched in the parade to Beacon Hill Park, sponsored by the Youth Council in the crusade for peace. Bottom picture, paid tribute to fallen comrades. Members of the Canadian Legion, shown in the bottom picture, paid tribute to fallen comrades at a drumhead service at Sidney. Veterans were alive to pass movements, but believed it was dangerous to adopt an apathetic attitude, said one of the speakers.

Peace Theme Stressed On Great War Anniversary

Thousands at Peace Demonstration Sponsored by Youth Movement

A thousand citizens who took part in the peace demonstration, marched from the War Memorial, along Government Street to Beacon Hill Park, where they gathered for a drumhead service at Sidney. Veterans were alive to pass movements, but believed it was dangerous to adopt an apathetic attitude, said one of the speakers.

The parade, then, was a religious note was dominant in the activities at the War Memorial. Rev. G. D. Switzer delivered his speech in which the contrast between the armament firms and the human misery incidental to war was the main theme, then the assembly was asked to sing the international peace hymn, "Let There Be Peace."

Mr. Church was then heard giving the benediction following which a wreath was placed on the memorial on behalf of the Local Council of Women.

The parade then formed and marched off in step with the music of the Salvation Army Band.

First came a man carrying a large Union Jack; next, the band, and next, a big banner inscribed with the words: "Youth Protests Against War."

PRINCE OF WALES AIDS IN BOY'S RESCUE

Blairitz, France, Aug. 6.—The Prince of Wales helped save a small boy from drowning yesterday by hauling him from a beach swimming pool into which he had been swept by a great wave which broke over the pool from the beach.

The Prince came to Blairitz several days ago for a vacation. About 5.30 yesterday afternoon he was at the pool when a comber caught the twelve-year-old boy and swamped him.

The Prince plunged into the pool and helped pull the boy out. Only a few saw the rescue. They crowded around the Prince with congratulations.

The Prince returned to his villa without learning the youngster's name.

German Leader's Speech to Reichstag Is Eulogy of Late President von Hindenburg

By Louis P. Lochner
Associated Press Foreign Staff

Berlin, Aug. 6.—From the rostrum where on July 12 he defended his killing seventy-seven "enemies," Adolf Hitler to-day paid solemn tribute to the late President Paul von Hindenburg and prayed for the peace, freedom and honor of Germany.

"Deputies of the German Reichstag, men and women of the German people!" the Chancellor-leader spoke. "I implore you all now to look beyond this transitory moment into the future. Let the strong realization enter our hearts, the Herr Reichspräsident Field Marshal General von Hindenburg is not dead."

"He is living. For in dying he now wanders above us amidst the imperials of our people, surrounded by the great spirits of the past as an eternal patron and protector of the German Reich and the German nation."

Hitler declared the late President was "an innocent of the beginning of the war as anybody in the world could be." He pointed out that when the conflict began in 1914, Hindenburg was living in retirement, having taken his discharge from the army at the age of sixty-four, on March 18, 1911.

ERA OF HUMILIATION

The new leader of Germany praised Hindenburg as military commander and declared:

"Had the political leadership of our people during this period been congenial with the military, Germany would have been spared the greatest humiliation ever to go down in history."

He said the World War broke on a German people "acutely convinced of having been attacked without their guilt."

FORCE DRIVEN FROM FOCHOW

Canadian Press from Hanoi
Fochow, China, Aug. 6.—This important treaty port closed with relief to-day as government forces routed Chinese communist troops and thus removed the threat of a possible red invasion.

Reports that the foreign population was preparing to evacuate the port were officially denied. The communists split up into small bands to escape capture.

The government had a civil suit for $175,000 pending against the Red and a group of communists of which $7,500,000 represents fines and penalties and the remainder the value of 100,000 cases of liquor which the government accused the Red of bringing into this country during the prohibition period. Seattle Judge Makes Ruling Against George Reifel, Vancouver; Sister of Reifel Gets Injunction Against Vancouver Bank Paying $200,000

Associated Press
Seattle, Aug. 6.—Federal Judge Jeremiah Netero to-day ordered forfeited the $100,000 surety bond of George Reifel, son of Henry Reifel, wealthy Canadian distiller and brewer, when the younger Reifel failed to appear in court for arraignment of an indictment charging a liquor smuggling conspiracy against the government.

The court granted attorneys for Henry Reifel a continuance until August 20 of his arraignment although Sam E. Whitaker, special assistant U.S. Attorney-General, asked forfeiture of the older Reifel's $100,000 bond also.

Whitaker said Marine Hospital physicians had been balked in efforts to see Henry Reifel at the Vancouver General Hospital yesterday to verify reports he was ill.

The Reifels were arrested July 4 and released on bonds furnished by the American Bonding Company of Baltimore, Md. Later the bonds were made final and classes insured giving forty-eight hours for appearance in case the men were indicted.

THE CHARGES

Grand jury indictments opened last week charged the father and son on two counts with conspiracy to violate tariff laws by smuggling liquor into this country, concealing it and transporting it for sale.

The government had a civil suit for $175,000 pending against the Reifel and a group of communists of which $7,500,000 represents fines and penalties and the remainder the value of 100,000 cases of liquor which the government accused the Red of bringing into this country during the prohibition period. LITTLE STEVENS BOOK IS VETOED

Premier Bennett Withdraws Minister's Remarks on Inquiry From Publication

Ottawa, Aug. 6.—In a dramatic move, over the week-end, the government withdrew from publication a booklet written by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, charging exploitation of Canadian consumers and producers by financial groups.

It was withdrawn by Premier Bennett, after warnings of legal action from companies named in the pamphlet.

The twelve-page booklet was based on evidence produced before the mass buying committee of the House of Commons, over which the Trade Minister presided. He said he would not set out conditions were remedied, leveled a many-sided indictment against financial groups for wage cutting, stock watering and general unethical business practices. This might involve, he said, a change in the traditional policies of the Conservative Party.

NOT FOR PUBLICATION

In an interview in Winnipeg yesterday Mr. Stevens said the booklet contained the text of a private address he had delivered to a parliamentary study club composed of conservatives, during the recent session. At the request of some of the members for further opportunity to study his speech, it was printed in booklet form and was intended for the study of the study club.

HITLER PRAISES HIS LATE CHIEF

The Chancellor's address, delivered before a hushed audience in the Kroll Opera House— which still serves as the temporary Reichstag building following last year's fire—was a masterpiece in character, although he made frequent references to the principles of his own regime in tracing Hindenburg's career.

DISPLAYS EMOTION
With his voice choked in emotion, Hitler declared: "We want to preserve the miracle of this new resurrection of our people as a precious inheritance of a great age, and we want to pass it on to the generations that come after us. He who thus observes fidelity to his people shall himself ever remain unforgotten in fidelity."

As early as daybreak, Hitler's black-uniformed special guards, the Schutz Staffeln, were concentrated in the immediate vicinity of the Kroll Opera House and along the Wilhelmstrasse. They were supplemented by strong police contingents to keep the passage clear for the automobiles of Hitler and his cabinet.

MUCH BLACK CREEPS
The opera house was swathed in black crepe and profusely garlanded with evergreen. Inside, from the black rostrum, lined with laurel wreaths and white lilies, a marble bust of the late President, von Hindenburg looked out on the throng. Hitler's words were carried to the masses of humanity outside in the Koenigsplatz by numbers of loud speakers.

The air inside the great auditorium was heavy with the reverend tones of mourning. Even the chandeliers and the carpets were draped in black. The members of the Reichstag were uniformed with black armbands.

MONTHS OF ANXIETY
Beginning his speech, Hitler said: "For months we have been filled with grave apprehension. The knowledge of the approaching end of the venerable old gentleman filled millions of German hearts with an inner anxiety about the life of the active, energetic man who was more to us than merely chief of state."

"From this man, whom for almost eighty years Almighty God had taken under his protection, had become for all of us the symbolic expression of the indestructible and ever-renewable vitality of our people."

"The fated will of Providence had visibly called him about our ordinary conceptions. When the nation placed its highest post of honor in his hands this was for the first time given the highest dignity."

"The all-wise, the serene, the German Reichspresident is indissolubly bound up with the venerable name of him who has now passed on."

ENIGMA CAREER
"Only as we are about to record last honors to the deceased one, full recognition of the extent and greatness of this unique life drama on the part of our people."

"And we bow humbly before this inscrutable will which, with things that appear to be accidental or even inconsequential, serves in molding the life of a man in a manner that is the mind of man only after the fact and recognizes in the entire wonderful mystery of his inter-relationship."

"The Reichspresident and field marshal General von Hindenburg is dead. When we attempt to explain the feelings that stir our people to their innermost depths we should like to begin with the gratitude and filled with ever-new gratitude to be recalled to the memories of the great man who has passed on."

"Who, however, imbued with a desire to comply with historical justice we begin to investigate into this phenomenon, only then are we able to measure the extent and content of human life that is of such great value to us and which in the course of centuries."

SINCE YEAR 1847
"Now was the appearance of this great man, our Chancellor since that October 2, 1847, when Paul von Hinz"

Little Stevens Book Vetoed

Some of the copies of the booklet were sent from the department to certain newspapers. The minister's view on certain practices were so emphatic that the firms against which strictures were leveled took strong exception to publication. Crouched for some of them wired the government. As Mr. Stevens had already left for Winnipeg, the message was sent to Premier Bennett.

The view taken by counsel was that some of Mr. Stevens's deductions were not borne out by the evidence submitted to the committee and counsel intimated that publication might lead to court action. It was a result of these protests the government investigated why these pamphlets had been sent out at all.

The various newspapers and individuals receiving copies were communicated with by the department and asked to return them. It was stated by officials of the department that it had been an error that they had gone out.

NOTHING RETRACTED

Saskatoon, Aug. 6.—Hon. H. H. Stevens, Federal Minister of Trade and Commerce, had "nothing to retract and nothing to add to the statement" in regard to his mimeographed booklet on mass buying in the city, he said on arrival here today.

"There is no controversy so far as I am concerned," Mr. Stevens said. "I did not know the names of any firms that had objected to the pamphlet, he said, and he did not propose to take part in any argument."

Mr. Stevens made it clear the booklet was not published by the Bureau of Statistics, but was mimeographed by and for members of a parliament study club, to whom it was delivered in the form of an address. He said he did not intend for publication, he said.

"We ask only that our present frontiers shall be maintained," he said, "and believe me, we shall never fight again, except in self-defence."

AUSTRIAN SITUATION
Questioned on the Austrian situation, the Chancellor said: "We shall not attack Austria, but we cannot prevent Austrians seeking to restore their ancient connection with Germany."

"Anschluss (union of the two countries) is not a problem of the present day. Austrian independence lies outside all discussion and nobody questions it."

"Unless Britain attacks us, we shall never come into conflict with Britain, on the Rhine or anywhere else," he said. "We want nothing from Britain."

Twenty-five Killed When Moslems and Jews Battle in Constantine

Associated Press
Algiers, Algeria, Aug. 6.—Twenty-five persons were reported killed and hundreds hurt in two days of rioting in Constantine.

The reports reached here to-day through a censorship which made it difficult to get complete details.

Fear of a tense situation in Constantine as a result of the disorders caused Jules Carde, Governor-General of Algeria, to leave by fast plane for Constantine.

Moslems and Jews battled throughout the city, and the rioting subsided only after the arrival of day of three trainloads of troops from Algiers.

The spark that started the trouble, according to the Jewish French soldiers, was a Jewish French soldier's refusal to allow a Moslem to enter the Jewish quarter of the city attacking the inhabitants.

In case where Jews barricaded themselves in their homes the Moslems set fire to the buildings.

The rioting spread to the streets to battle with pistols, knives and clubs.

COURT ORDERS BIG BOND BE FORFEITED

Vancouver, Aug. 6.—At the suit of Mrs. Florence A. Wills, Vancouver, Mr. Justice Fisher in supreme court granted an injunction restraining the N.Y. Bank of Canada, Vancouver, from paying $500,000 to the American Bonding Co. of Baltimore.

The money, according to the plaintiff, had been deposited by her with the bank as indemnity for bail provided by the American Bonding Company for the arrest of her husband, Harry Wills, her father, who faces criminal charges in Seattle.

Mrs. Wills seeks to stop payment of the bond, as she has been advised that the contract relating to indemnity for bail is illegal in British Columbia.

The injunction was granted July 18, when a motion was made by the judge to continue it. Another motion sought by Mrs. Wills to declare that the indemnity contracts are illegal. They were entered into on July 9, she said.

The plaintiff's legal advisers today indicated they were prepared to carry the case to the Privy Council in London, if necessary.

and took second to Ernest Thatcher, South Africa, who cleared 6 feet 3 inches a second time. South Africa's other victory was scored by Harry Hart in the sixteen-pound shot.

Most surprising of Canadian performances was the second place won by Jim Worral, Montreal, in the 100-yard high hurdles final. Fourth in the 440-yard hurdles Saturday, Worral was not regarded seriously in the sprint event, but the long jumper cleared 16 feet 10 inches.

Art Ravensdale, Canada's best hurdler, was fourth. Ravensdale was up with the leaders until the eighth hurdle, when F. H. Viljoen, South Africa, fell and sprawled across the Canadian's stride. Ravensdale's stride was broken.

Young Frankie Hicks, Halifax, was the lone Canadian to reach the 200 yards final, which will be run tomorrow. Allan Poole, Kelowna, B.C., and Bill Christie, Toronto, were eliminated in the first round of heats and Bert Pearson, Hamilton, fell by the wayside in the semi-finals.

ADDISON IN FINAL

Joe Addison, Victoria, and Bill Fritz, Windsor, Queen's University student, qualified for the 440 yards final, to be run tomorrow. Fritz got behind England's Geoffrey Beattie, who had stayed there. Addison was second to another Briton, C. H. Stoney, in the other semi-final.

Irene Stoney, Allandale, Ont., was the only Canadian failing to reach the women's 200 yards final. She was fourth in the first heat, won by Nellie Halstead, England.

Elisabeth, Halifax, was second and qualified.

"Hilda Cameron, Toronto, who has been fighting a throat infection ever since landing in England, qualified in the third heat and Lillian Palmer, Vancouver, made the grade in the second.

The day produced two double winners. Harry Hart, South Africa, added the sixteen-pound shot to the discus throw title he won Saturday. Each time he broke his own British Empire record. Gladys Lunn, England, won the javelin three Saturday and the 800-yard run today.

REWARD WRIST

The best thing to a Canadian victory was Phil Edwards's triumph in the 800 yards final. But it was on behalf of Phil's native British Columbia that the Canadian runner was caught in a minute 94.3 seconds.

Joe Haley, tall young high jumper from Trail, B.C., gave Canada another victory in his specialty. The Canadian cleared 6 feet 3 inches, better than he had ever done, to tie for first with Ernest Thatcher, South Africa, and J. P. Michie, Scotland.

In the tiring jump-off Thatcher proved to have the most endurance. All failed at 8 feet 4 inches, and the missed again when the bar was lowered a half inch. Thatcher got over 6.3 again to win first place. Then it was between Haley and Michie. Haley won, clearing 6.3 for the second time to win the place.

Les Wade, Montreal, qualified for the one-mile final, finishing fourth in his heat, a yard behind Jack Lovell, New Zealand. Neither Wade nor the New Zealander sought to win but neither was ever more than a few yards behind Wade and Woodhouse, England, who placed first and second. Wade's time was 4 minutes 24 seconds.

SUMMARIZED FOLLOW:

Men's 200-yard dash (two qualify in each heat for semi-finals):
First heat—1, H. S. Yates, Australia; 2, Hints, England; 3, Allen Poole, Canada. Time 23.4 seconds.
Second heat—1, W. Ransley, England; 2, Bert Pearson, Canada; 3, Chester Lawrence, Newfoundland. Time 23.3 seconds.
Third heat—1, F. A. W. Sweeney, England; 2, Frank Nicks, Canada. Time 23.5 seconds.
Fourth heat—1, W. M. Theunissen, South Africa; 2, Cupid, Wales; 3, Woodhouse, England.

Bigger Canadian Navy Advocated

In an interview I had with him at the hotel here, where he is staying during the reunion of the Canadian Corps, to attend which he had traveled to Canada, Sir Reginald refused to be drawn into any discussion as to whether the Dominion should share in the cost of such an expansion.

He stressed he was expressing his personal beliefs. So far as strengthening of naval forces went, he intimated he would rather see the Dominion providing, equipping and maintaining their own units in their own section of the empire. Australia, he said, had already a rather formidable force for its size, headed with two first-class 10,000-ton cruisers.

BEATTY SPEAKS

Coincidentally, Earl Beatty in England was declaring in an address that Britain "should repudiate the shackles of the London Naval Treaty, under which, along with the Washington Treaty, naval forces of the great powers are held in definite limits."

Beatty wants the present limit of fifty cruisers raised to the seventy, which is declared has always been figured as the normal British requirement.

BEATTY'S POWER

Sir Reginald was inclined to think that the powers for defense of British cities were overrated. But, he added, he spoke as a navy man.

Portsmouth, Eng., Aug. 6.—Britain must "repudiate the shackles of the London Treaty" and build a big navy, Earl Beatty, former First Lord of the Admiralty, declared at the opening of navy week here on Saturday.

On the twentieth anniversary of Britain's entry into the World War, the man who commanded the Grand Fleet during 1916 and 1918, asserted the nation must add a large number of cruisers to the armaments of the empire.

The Earl, by inference, named Germany as the chief disturbing point in Europe to-day in a fashion similar to that twenty years ago.

DANGERS SEEN
"One false step during the last few weeks might have set the whole of Europe ablaze," he said. "The Admiralty must add a large number of cruisers to the armaments of the empire."

"The time has come when the shackles imposed under the London Treaty should be repudiated."

Several weeks ago the admiralty made known its determination to increase the number of cruisers special-

TEXAS RELIEF IS INCREASED

Farmers Suffer Great Losses
in Drought; Legislature to Meet

Associated Press
Dallas, Texas, Aug. 6.—Looking over their drought-stricken fields, Texas farmers figure nature's strike has cost them millions of dollars.
Temperature records have been equalled and in some places broken this summer, wheat has not grown properly, ranges have dried up, corn has turned brown, many Panhandle farmers have abandoned their homes and most of the 354 counties in the state are either in emergency or secondary drought lists.
Cotton crops in each of three widely separated counties have been damaged more than $1,000,000 and the normal Panhandle wheat crop of $5,000,000 bushels will be about $1,000,000.

At the request of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, the Texas Legislature will meet August 27 to authorize issuance of additional state bonds to relieve unemployment. Reports showed, she said, that the extended drought and other adverse conditions had created a situation of "real acute alarm."

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 6 (Associated Press).—While the thermometer registered 110, the H. K. Paulsen farm had an out-of-season fireworks display yesterday. Fireworks valued at $1,000 exploded in a shack on the farm, where they had been stored by an Omaha dealer.

SIX LOSE LIVES IN ONTARIO

Canadian Press
Toronto, Aug. 6.—A variety of accidents claimed six lives in Ontario over the week-end, a considerable decrease from last week's total. More than a dozen were injured, three seriously.

The dead:
George Merryman, thirty-two, and Alton Cullies, twenty-five, both of Toronto, Ont., killed when their car overturned near Dorchester.

Walter Cooper, twenty, of Brantford, fatally crushed beneath a train while stealing a ride to Crystal Beach.

August Bentley, South River airport employee, killed by a motor car near Chatham.

Emma Munger, forty-four, of East Windsor, killed in a head-on auto collision seven miles west of Chatham.

Raymond Brown, twenty-eight, of Midstone, drowned in the Detroit River off Sandwich.

Laboratory tests show that we might live for 1,500 years if we could keep our blood temperature at forty-five degrees Fahrenheit.

STRIKE SETTLEMENT ENDS SCENES LIKE THIS IN CHICAGO STOCKYARDS

With the handlers back at work at the great stockyards of the Windy City the cattle and other animals now have plenty of water and food and will not suffer as did those above. The picture was taken when the strike was its height.

ARMED GROUP IS DRILLING

U.S. Committee of Inquiry Is Told "Silver Shirts" Organized in California

Associated Press
Los Angeles, Aug. 6.—The Los Angeles Examiner in a copyright story in its Sunday edition said testimony had been given before the congressional committee on un-American activities now sitting in Los Angeles, "that armed men known as the Silver Shirts, with a secret auxiliary called storm troopers and avowedly organization to change the government of the United States," are drilling near San Diego.

"Revelation made by government operative disclosed that 2,000 rounds of 30 calibre ammunition was purchased for the Silver Shirts at the naval air station at North Island, San Diego," the newspaper said. "It was purchased from members of the United States armed forces on active duty at the time."

The testimony was presented to the committee, presided over by Representative Charles Kramer of California, at a session held behind closed doors.

Despite denial by San Diego peace officers that the "Silver Shirts" legion was active there, Representative Kramer said today that "our information is that armed bodies of men wearing the silver shirt insignia have been conducting weekly target practice and military drills at a spot near San Diego."

Kramer said that although the committee's information indicated only 200 Silver Shirts in the San Diego "army," it had led to the committee members to believe the organization was widespread throughout the southwest and had at least 25,000 members in California alone.

John Peterson, chief of police at San Diego, branded the reports as "poppycock."

Commercial Credit Earnings Jump

Baltimore, Aug. 6.—Commercial Credit Company earned 97c per share on its common stock held by the public for the quarter ended June 30, 1934, as against 16c per share earned during the corresponding period of 1933. With 75c per share earned in the March quarter of 1934, net income applicable to the common was $1.72 per share for the first six months of this year, and $3.09 per share for the year ended June 30, 1934.

Gross purchases of all receivables for the June 1934 quarter amounted to $126,482,150.76, compared with $89,889,353.09 for the March, 1934, quarter and $208,172,513.43 for the six months ended June 30, 1934. This compares with gross purchases of $76,017,907.77 for the first six months of 1933 and $331,837,781.43 for the year ended June 30, 1934.

Net income credited to earned surplus after the payment of all interest and discount charges and providing for all federal and other taxes was $1,200,551.70 for the June quarter, compared with $1,085,965.63 for the March, 1934, quarter, or $2,379,567.33 for the six months ended June 30, 1934. This compares with $800,754.66 for the first six months of 1933 and $4,870,732.36 for the year ended June 30, 1934.

Dividend requirements on the 6 1/2 per cent and 7 per cent first preferred stocks (excluding preferred stock of subsidiary), held by the public, were earned 7.28 times during the six-month period, and 6.64 times for the year ended June 30, 1934.

The way has been paved for such an effort, they pointed out, by the military defeat of the Nazis, coupled with the elevation of the monarchist, Kurt Schuschnigg, to the Austrian chancellorship.

New U.S. Stock Control Planned

Part of Senate Committee's Report on Inquiry Is Made Public

Associated Press
Washington, Aug. 6.—Methods used by United States investment bankers in selling billions of dollars of securities now almost worthless had been described today by a United States Senate committee as "scandalous," "shocking" and at times "violative of the most elementary principles of business ethics."

One big flaw, the committee found as a result of its stock market and banking investigation, was that bankers "frequently did not have decent regard" for the investors' interest.

A third installment in the banking committee's report will be made public next week. It and the previous chapters will be used as basis for further legislation when Congress meets in January.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—William Hale "Big Bill" Thompson was reported by his friends today to be considering again seeking the post of mayor chair of the second city of the United States.

U.S. President Speaks In Park

In Address in Glacier National Area Roosevelt Deals
With Great Resources

By Francis M. Stephenson, Associated Press Staff Writer

Glacier National Park, Mont., Aug. 6.—President Roosevelt, in his first talk to the nation since his visit to the Hawaiian Islands, asserted the United States government was just beginning its fight to save the resources of agriculture and industry from "the selfishness of individuals."

"We have won the greater part of the fight to obtain and to retain these great public properties for the benefit of the public," Mr. Roosevelt declared yesterday evening in an address in this great park of the government. "We are at the threshold of even a more important battle to save our resources of agriculture and industry against the selfishness of individuals."

"People understand, as never before, the splendid public purpose that underlies the development of great power sites, the improving of navigation, the prevention of floods and of the erosion of our agricultural fields, the preservation of forest fires, the diversification of farming and the distribution of industry," he said.

"We know more and more that the east has a stake in the west and the west has a stake in the east, that the nation must and shall be considered as a whole and not as an aggregation of disjointed groups."

"As in the case in the long fight for the preservation of national forests and water power and mineral deposits, it has been a long and fierce fight against many private interests which were entrenched in political and economic power. So, too, it has been a constant struggle to protect the public interest against the private exploitation at the hands of the selfish few."

Mr. Roosevelt's speech, which was broadcast, was heard by listeners in Victoria.

POLICE HUNTING WRITERS OF NOTE

Associated Press
Los Angeles, Aug. 6.—Regardless of whether a note signed "The Trio" and demanding $50,000 from five wealthy and prominent men may have been written as a "joke," it was a violation of the law and police will continue their investigations, Chief of Detectives Joe Taylor said today.

Taylor said no reply had been received to an advertisement inserted by officers in a morning newspaper asking further instructions, as the note had directed.

The demand for money was made to Orra Menette, vice-president of a large bank; E. L. Debeney, oil magnate; Alexander Pantagosa, theatrical manager; Jack J. Doyle, wealthy sports promoter and oil man, and William F. Oetle, Beverly Hills millionaire and the recent victim of an unsuccessful kidnapping plot.

Associated Press
Oklahoma City, Aug. 6.—An apparent attempt to kidnap Robert A. Hefner, Sr., former justice of the state Supreme Court, led today to a search by federal agents and police for three men.

The wealthy and socially prominent jurist, police said, probably escaped the plot because of a telephone warning which came just in time. Police said today they had identified one of the three men through photographs and expected to arrest him.

A man telephoned Hefner that he was an old acquaintance in need of work and Hefner agreed to see him. When the jurist went to the garage for his automobile, the man, a stranger, was waiting. During their conversation, the telephone rang.

It was Ira Lloyd, a neighbor, who informed Hefner three men had aroused the suspicions of his janitor by inquiries concerning Hefner's habits. The stranger fled.

STATE BURGLARS HID DYNAMITE

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 6.—Officers today discarded a theory that dynamite found cached near the Union Pacific railroad tracks two and one-half miles west of here was intended for President Roosevelt's special train which passed through Spokane Saturday evening. It was believed the dynamite was hidden by burglars.

SAVE THE POKER HANDS

"Welcome Home, Telephone!"

We certainly have missed you!"

THE Dodsworths have been without a telephone for months, but they had it put in again this morning. And are they happy about it!

It is a great relief for them to see the familiar instrument on the wall again, ready to do all sorts of jobs such as ordering groceries, or getting a doctor, or calling the police, or inviting people in for the evening.

Already Mrs. Dodsworth has been telephoning her friends to tell them that the telephone is in again. She wants them to know that once more it is easy to invite the Dodsworths to go places.

CIVIC TAXPAYERS

IF CONCERN OVER TAX DELINQUEN-
 cies is one cause of worry common to mayors and treasury officials of all Canada's municipalities in these times, the sleep of Mayor Leeming and his officials at our City Hall should be less disturbed than that of the men charged with financial responsibility for other municipalities.

The Citizens' Research Institute of Canada, which compiles statistics of our various governing bodies, has completed its study of tax collection results in the chief municipalities of Canada from coast to coast. These results show Victoria has by far the lowest percentage of uncollected taxes of any municipality in western Canada. Half the other municipalities, in fact, have uncollected tax percentages running to double the figures for Victoria during the last two years.

The institute's table covering the western municipalities presents the situation as follows:

Municipality:	Popula- tion	% Current levy uncol- lected	Incr. % over
Western:	No.	%	%
New Westminster	20,000	22.7	19.1
North Vancouver	9,000	30.4	32.4
Vancouver	248,711	29.1	25.0
Victoria	39,082	21.6	18.0
Burnaby District	26,500	48.0	43.0
Calgary	83,263	26.3	23.0
Edmonton	70,251	25.8	22.3
Lethbridge	12,448	31.1	27.3
Medicine Hat	10,500	40.9	37.4
Moore Jaw	21,000	51.6	48.4
Regina	33,300	40.5	35.9
Saskatoon	42,291	43.7	38.2
Brandon	17,898	49.7	45.0
St. Boniface	16,200	41.9	38.0
Winnipeg	221,343	34.4	31.4

At times we hear much about the souther position of the more conservative, unboomed eastern centres. Well, let us see what the figures reveal. Of thirty-six Ontario municipalities reported, only nine have uncollected tax percentages lower than Victoria. These are Galt with 19.5 for the last year, Kingston with 10.7, Kitchener with 14.8, London with 19.5, Ottawa with 13.1, Owen Sound with 14.5, Peterborough with 16.7, Port Arthur with 17.6 and Woodstock with 10.966 population which leads all Canada with only 9.8 per cent of tax arrears. Toronto with 22.7 per cent of uncollected taxes is a little on the under side from Victoria. The remaining municipalities make showings running up to 50.2 per cent for Scarborough Township, a Toronto suburb.

As for financially-cautious Quebec, there is only one municipality reported in the whole province that has paid up its taxes better than Victoria. That is Granby, which has an arrearage of only 14.1 per cent. Even wealthy Westmount with 22.7 per cent of arrears stands below Victoria. Old Quebec City shows 34.7 per cent unpaid, Montreal 35.2 per cent. The figures rise on to 62.5 per cent for Lévis.

In Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, people are not in the running with Victorians when it comes to paying city taxes. Delinquencies for all Maritime cities reported run from 24.6 to 49.0 per cent. In Prince Edward Island, Charlottetown had an arrearage of 26.9 per cent for 1932, with the total for 1933 not yet worked out.

Victoria's showing in leading all the west and most of the east in meeting its municipal tax bills should stand us in good stead when banks and investment houses make their comparative ratings of municipalities as loaning risks. That rating is expressed in the interest rate the city is called to pay on its loans.

CANADA'S GOLD

THAT CANADIAN GOLD PRODUCTION
 in 1934 will exceed $105,000,000 is the prophecy of The Northern Miner. Over eighty mills will be turning out a golden grist by the year end, more than doubling the number of a year ago. Scores of properties, from coast to coast, are preparing to enter the lists of profitable producers.

Old gold areas, neglected for a generation, have been revived through the magic of $35 gold. Nova Scotia, Ontario, British Columbia, Quebec and Manitoba share honors in the energetic development of prospects old and new.

The larger, well-established gold mines are making record profits, paying record dividends. New names are being rapidly added to the list of those that are able to make cash payments to shareholders.

The point is made that gold is the only Canadian product that can go up in price without hurting the Canadian consumer. It is further asserted that the new bullion tax destroyed, in the mines paying it, about a third of the ore made by the higher price.

Canadian nickel producers are shipping at all time record rates. Canadian copper mines are producing at near capacity. Dividends have been restored in this grouping.

Dividend payments for Canadian metal mines of all classifications will exceed $43,000,000 in 1934, close to a record. The possibility of expansion in this direction is distinctly encouraging.

Canada has improved, in 1934, its status in the production of minerals. To-day it stands first in nickel, first in asbestos, first in platinum, second in radium, second in gold, second in zinc, second in cobalt. Canada stands third in copper, fourth in lead and fourth in silver amongst the world's producers.

For a people of 11,000,000 population the mineral production is remarkable—and growing rapidly. The value of metals produced per capita in 1933 was $23.33; in the current year the figure may be $30.

The current annual number of The Northern Miner runs to 140 pages, a record issue. It contains, in addition to much useful statistical information, reviews of the Canadian mining industry in all its phases, by provinces and areas and records a striking advance all along the line. The stability and comparative prosperity of the industry are clearly indicated in a comprehensive treatment of the various metals and minerals.

Among the features is a page drawing of a typical gold mine, with an adjoining page explaining mining terms and methods to the layman.

YOUTH THE "RADICAL"

THERE IS NOTHING PHENOMENAL IN
 the association of youth with various radical movements in its demonstration against war. On the contrary it is altogether logical, since three-fourths of it at least, particularly in English-speaking countries, is radical, if we may use the term in the sense in which it is used by many ostrich-like elders to designate everybody who exercises his mentality in the independent way in which Providence intended it to be exercised.

We send young people to school to be taught to think honestly, soundly and informatively. We send them to the Sunday schools for moral and religious instruction. We even make them say their prayers to the Most High before they go to bed. We enjoin them to be friendly, generous, truthful, considerate, peace-loving and sportsmanlike. We tell them it is sinful to deceive, steal and attack others. For their games we appoint referees or umpires for the peaceful settlement of disputes. That is part of the record of every child in nine homes out of ten in every so-called civilized country, and on the basis of that experience most children grow into manhood.

Youth, having had imprinted upon its consciousness in its most impressionable period certain fundamental principles, becomes bewildered when it is confronted with an entirely new code of morality in the realm of international affairs. It knows that if it settles its own disputes by violence, if it has no respect for law and the courts of justice, it will go to gaol. It can not understand, therefore, why nations should try to destroy one another over a few acres of territory, or because one government does not like another, instead of referring their differences to a court of arbitration. It can not square the precept and admonition that if it breaks a moral law it is wicked and if it breaks a national law it will be punished as a criminal, with the idea that it is a glorious and commendable thing for a nation to break every law in the decalogue in war.

If youth's conception of national and international affairs is "radical," let us remember that society has made it so, and that youth is entirely consistent when it challenges the things it has been taught from the cradle to avoid. When it protests against nations doing what it has been told to believe is wrong, it is acting only in conformity with the instruction it received from its parents, and in the Sabbath school. If it thinks for itself and acts courageously as the result of its thinking, it is doing only what it is taught to do in our schools and colleges. It has no stain upon its conscience. If to be free from humbug, pretence and hypocrisy is to be radical, youth should not object to the designation.

DEMOCRACY HAS ITS WEAKNESSES,
 to be sure—great and glaring, some of them, for which we often pay a heavy price.

But it does provide a safety valve for public discontent. It does make it possible for people to get rid of a government, a party, or a policy which they do not like, in a peaceful and orderly way. It lets every man have his say about the state of affairs about him; it makes the appeal to force unnecessary.

We need to keep this constantly in mind. There are people who profess an admiration for dictatorship—whether proletarian, fascist, or whatnot—on the ground that democracy is inefficient and unwieldy.

One look at the woes of Germany and Austria is enough to show that democracy's benefits are almost infinitely greater than its drawbacks.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE ADVENTUROUS AMERICAN
 The Chicago Daily News

Most adventurous of men, the American often appears the most commonplace. He bores the hungry hearts of suburbia. The vestal virgins of the office and marts, the aggressive professional ladies, see nothing but Rotarians and golf players all about them. Slaves to costume, they believe that a sack suit always clothes a huckster. More often it drapes a speculator or plunger who takes more chances in twenty-four hours than the average European takes in a lifetime.

But until we have more uniforms, more plumes and drum beats, few home-town philanderers can hope to match a Foderjay.

GERMANY AND HER DEBTS
 Le Soleil, Quebec

It is now evident to everyone, if ever anyone doubted it, that the Dawes plan, the Young plan, and the Hoover moratorium had for their object the partial, and finally the integral, liberation of Germany from the burden of reparation, so as to enable her to settle the loans granted her by the United States and Great Britain. But Germany, helped by these foreign interventions to get rid of her obligations to the countries devastated by the war, did not stop there. She is now looking in the same way to the wiping out of her loan debts to Britain and the United States. We are watching a veritable international comedy, the victims of which will be the victims of the Great War.

ARMAMENTS AND WAR
 The Daily Express, London

France builds up her national defences. Her Ministers risked a first-class political crisis and a general strike to save £27,000,000 in economy cuts. Now they will pour out £20,000,000 in "security." Repeat, similar appropriations for defence in all countries. Do not fall into the error of supposing that the building-up of armaments must mean war. Armaments do not necessarily lead to war, nor does disarmament guarantee peace. The bloodiest war in history—for the soldiers—was begun by two almost unarmed Powers. In 1891 the total armed forces of the United States numbered 12,000 troops and 7,000 sailors. In the four-year Civil War that followed, the North put 2,500,000 into the field, the South 1,100,000 men. Both sides counted half a million dead.

Loose Ends

An old lady gives some good advice to the girls—an admiral—and a countrywoman gives some wise advice to her husband concerning long ears and short legs.

By R.B.W.

SCIENTIFIC NOTE

NOT BECAUSE it is of any profound importance in the scheme of things, but just as a matter of scientific interest and community pride, I feel I should tell you of a discovery I made the other day. Up the island a little way I discovered a charming old lady who lives by the sea and sits on her veranda most of the day smoking contentedly and looking out another way. She is a pipe smoker, and she is a pipe never stains your fingers, is never inhaled and is quite harmless. She says I should start a campaign to make all the women give up their nasty cigarettes and smoke nice clean pipes. A pipe, she says, is much more fastidious and ladylike. I said I would tell the girls, but I didn't think it would do much good. Their tastes are too depraved.

She has a large collection of pipes, at least two dozen, and they are scattered about within easy reach. She makes no secret of her pipe smoking. On the contrary, she is rather proud of it and told me it was quite all right if I informed the public about it. For a pipe, she says, is far cleaner and more sanitary than the cigarettes that all the other women smoke.

Cigarettes, she says, stain a woman's fingers brown and almost invariably are inhaled, with serious damage to the health. Whereas a pipe never stains your fingers, is never inhaled and is quite harmless. She says I should start a campaign to make all the women give up their nasty cigarettes and smoke nice clean pipes. A pipe, she says, is much more fastidious and ladylike. I said I would tell the girls, but I didn't think it would do much good. Their tastes are too depraved.

FREE ADVICE

SIR REGINALD TORRE TTY-
 what, admiral of the British fleet, very considerably has been giving Canada some free advice. Landing in Quebec the other day, he said Canada should have a larger navy; some defences of her own. For this expert counsel Canada should be grateful and the British Government should give the admiral a special bonus for performing the useful piece of work in demonstrating the bonds of Empire. In return, Canada should send someone over to Britain to advise the British people on their problems and point out the obvious fact that if they become involved in European quarrels the Empire will be likely to break up—a fact which it is not quite respectable to mention in public but which every Canadian knows perfectly well in his heart.

It is very kind of the admiral to tell us that we need a navy. If he would only tell us how we can pay for it, he should be appointed permanent financial adviser to the Canadian Government. He understands finance better than anyone in this country. Such expenditure, and many others more useful for socialism, but I hardly think the admiral would wish to develop some such arrangement; we have to maintain a debt of about two billion dollars for our last warlike demonstration and we haven't even a navy to show for it. All we have to show for it is the present splendid spectacle of Europe, which we helped to save from militarism.

The admiral is quite right in this, however—up to now the whole naval and defence policy of Canada has been a joke of the more hilarious sort. For years and years we have been spending money on a navy. We have trained some of the finest young men in Canada as skilled naval officers—and then kept them ashore or sent them out playing at being a navy in a few trawlers and a couple of destroyers. In fairness to these boys, if nothing else, we should do one thing or the other—develop a navy or stop fooling with it.

Since we could build about 2,000 bombing planes for the cost of one great battleship, it might not be a bad idea for us to consider an air force. If we must defend ourselves, we might be able to pay for enough planes to blow a foreign fleet out of the water, but we couldn't pay for enough battleships to protect Port Alberni from the navy of the King of Siam.

DICTATOR

THEY were taller than I was the one in Germany, didn't it? Well, it's a curious story, but the old lady with the daisies in her hat, when I gave her and a basket of eggs a lift to town this morning. "Ain't it just like a man, though? Always a-wantin' to 'ave 'is own way. That's the way all men are. Now you take my George, George, he's just like 'Tiler and that Italian fellow Mussoloney, exactly, except that George ain't in politics and a briskeney by trade. Often I say to 'em, I say: 'George, you should have been a dictator, they say you was cut out for 'is way, 'cause you will 'ave yer own way, won't you?' "Well, George, he 'as allus worn long flannel ones, you know. Now my boy, 'e's a plumber, you know; my boy 'e always wears short ones, all stripes and polky patterns. Like you see in the advertisements in the newspapers. Underclothes I mean, of course. Yes, George 'e always wore long flannel ones 'cause 'e was brought up in 'em. When a man is brought up in 'em, George always said, he likes to stick to 'em, but my boy 'e got what you might call modern tastes 'cause 'e's a plumber and all.

"Well, George 'e decided to buy his own this season. I allus buy them for George myself 'cause you can't trust the stores to give you real flannel, can you? You take the last pair I bought. They weren't any more flannel than you're flannel or I'm flannel. Manyways, George 'e'd been lookin' at the advertisements or somethin', or maybe 'e'd seen my boy's 'e's a plumber. So this time George says, 'I think I'll take the afternoon off.' George says, 'and go to town and buy me one and maybe get a beer at the Legion.' 'e says. 'All right,' I says, 'but mind you don't take more than two and be sure they're flannel.' I says. There's no good tryin' to stop George 'cause 'e's just like 'Tiler and Mussoloney.

"Well, George come home and what do you think he bring with 'im? Soon as I seen what he bring with 'im, I says, 'George, what 'ave you brought, George?' I says. 'That ain't no more flannel than you're flannel or I'm flannel,' I says. 'It's too 'ot fer flannel,' George says. 'Well, it ain't been too 'ot fer flannel for thirty years up to now,' I says. 'Well, they ain't wearin' long ones no more, now, are they? They're wearin' short ones, now, and light and smart, too, like the boys,' 'e says.

"Well, I says, 'George, so 'elp me I never expected to see you wearin' green ones,' I says, 'and lookin' like an Italian gigolo.' I says. 'But if you want to wear 'em, it's all the same to me,' I says, 'and easier to wash than flannel.' You got to keep up with the times,' George says, 'and they're all a-wearin' 'em short now like the boys.' You forget,' I says, 'the boy is young and a plumber.'

THEIR OWN WAY

WELL, GEORGE 'e started to wear the short green ones and I didn't say nothin' and I kept me face straight when I seen 'em. Men will 'ave their own way, you know, and George 'e's just like 'Tiler and Mussoloney. But pretty soon I seen that George was kind of wringin' like in his clothes. 'The summer, the summer,' I says. 'Nothin', 'e says. 'Only I got the 'free,' 'e says. I knowed right 'e 'adn't got no 'free, but I didn't say nothin'. He kept a-wrigglin' and I noticed 'e couldn't sit down for more'n a minute in one place. 'The just nervous and restless on account of what 'is 'appenin' all over the world these days,' 'e says. 'You never worried before about what was goin' on in the world,' I says. 'After a while 'e comes around. Kind of hang-dog and shame-faced, and 'e says, 'They do itch a bit on the legs, don't they?' 'e says. 'Ow should I know?' I says. 'I never wore 'em.' 'What did you do with the flannel ones?' 'e says. 'I put 'em away,' I says. But I got 'em out again and George 'e's a-wearin' 'em again regular. The green ones is just away from the summer. I'll slip 'em out and give 'em to the Friendly 'Eip. 'There's nothin' wrong with

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALICE MICHAELS

GULF COAST
 The salt wind blows from the gulf to-day
 Through the camphor's new leaves, red,
 The palm fronds rattle as tall trunks
 And gulls flash by overhead.
 Lantana heds to the yellow rose,
 And the jasmine's heavy scent
 On the air the salt-sweet sea-wind goes
 With odors of ocean bloom.

The privet hedges are thick and green
 Stretching down to the sandy gold shore
 And the great gulls' shining gales.
 It is all unchanged since a distant year
 When life blossomed like the pomelo-tree
 Now
 The sky is as ardent, the sea as clear,
 But... what of our destinies now?

(From The Times Price)

The big building for Vancouver, Island at the World's Fair at Winnipeg in 1912 is the latest move on the part of the Vancouver Island Development League. The matter has not been formally discussed but a number of the members have spoken about it and a good deal of enthusiasm is already being shown.

The minister of works in the local government is inviting tenders for another ten miles of the Mill Bay road.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jay have returned to town after a holiday in Banff and other points in the interior.

Yesterday morning the steamer Otter arrived from Kyquait with the biggest cargo of whale products she has ever carried. This included 168 barrels of whale oil and 1,815 sacks of fertilizer.

All along with electric lights from basement to cupola, was the new Imperial Chinese school on Flagg Street last evening and the interior was also ablaze. Prominently placed in the vestibule is a large Union Jack. The splendid building showed up well under the lights.

"LET US FORGET"

To the Editor:—I presume this to be an opportune time to comment on the very excellent service rendered by our "Comrade H. Clear," who has served practically as a one-man "Waiting and Sick Committee" since 1920.

War veterans, pensioners and non-pensioners alike, who have been patients in our local hospitals, or confined within their own homes as a result of sickness or injury, are all particularly acquainted with Harry Clear, whose voluntary duty is to see that none of them shall be without tobacco or cigarettes which are dis-

nated by the various clubs of ex-service men.
 His pleasant and cheerful conversation when visiting his patients, and his willingness at all times to submit their problems to the right direction, has earned him many lasting friendships.

The veteran in question is himself, what is termed a "burnt-out pensioner" and in view of his unselfish and untiring service to a most worthy cause, why not reward him with something bigger than a vote of thanks? How about a suitable presentation from the combined ex-service clubs?

THE PENSIONERS HANDOUT

To the Editor:—It is interesting to note in your recent issue that our federal government has seen fit to grant $100,000 to a few men who served on the former pension board for four years.

These gentlemen are to be divided among about thirteen men and we are told some will receive $10,000. This is to be in the form of a gratuity.

Our men are to be divided into two groups. One group of gentlemen drew quite a large salary while on this board and it may well be assumed many of them were at that time in receipt of a large pension and are still.

To the returned man and a Canadian citizen this surely appears to be the best driver that would break the camel's back, especially in view of the fact that hundreds of pensions have been cut to the bone. Some men have had their pensions taken away entirely. Now long are the men going to keep silent on such a terrible state of affairs?

Why are the service organizations not making their voices heard in the face of such grave injustices? We have lots of heart-breaking cases right in our own city and who is pleading their cause? As it is fair to expect one gentleman in the employ of the Returned Soldiers' Pension Commission to have an unbiased mind when he is working on a case in the interests of a man that is about to have his pension cut, we are told in the Bible a man cannot serve two masters.

As it is fair to expect one gentleman in the employ of the Returned Soldiers' Pension Commission to have an unbiased mind when he is working on a case in the interests of a man that is about to have his pension cut, we are told in the Bible a man cannot serve two masters.

Our men are to be divided into two groups. One group of gentlemen drew quite a large salary while on this board and it may well be assumed many of them were at that time in receipt of a large pension and are still.

To the returned man and a Canadian citizen this surely appears to be the best driver that would break the camel's back, especially in view of the fact that hundreds of pensions have been cut to the bone. Some men have had their pensions taken away entirely. Now long are the men going to keep silent on such a terrible state of affairs?

Why are the service organizations not making their voices heard in the face of such grave injustices? We have lots of heart-breaking cases right in our own city and who is pleading their cause? As it is fair to expect one gentleman in the employ of the Returned Soldiers' Pension Commission to have an unbiased mind when he is working on a case in the interests of a man that is about to have his pension cut, we are told in the Bible a man cannot serve two masters.

COMMON COLD ONCE UNKNOWN

But Colds Were Caught
When Houses Were Built:
Air-conditioning Remedy

That annoying disability, the common cold, was once unknown.
People lived under very different conditions. They spent their whole existence out of doors. It was not until they began to build and live in houses that they began to catch cold.

While a cold is a nuisance and not necessarily dangerous in itself, physicians tell us that many serious maladies have their beginnings with an ordinary cold.
There are a number of reasons why people have colds. The chief reason why colds are more prevalent in winter than at other times of the year is that during the winter most people are obliged to spend the greater part of their time indoors.

Then, too, winter is the time of year when heating plants are brought into operation, and most of us are familiar with the resultant dryness of the air indoors.

DRY AS THE SAHARA

Those who have studied this condition say that the air in most buildings in this country, where no attempt is made to condition it, is as dry as the Sahara Desert. This condition dries up the necessary body moisture, lowers the vitality and renders the human body less able to withstand a sudden change in temperature.

For several years now, heating and ventilating engineers have been studying and experimenting, with a view to perfecting systems to control the quality of the air we breathe indoors at all seasons, in order to gain the maximum of health and comfort.

The outcome of this has been that it is now possible to install air conditioning equipment in homes, offices and public buildings that will produce atmospheric conditions that are much more akin to those outdoors than have hitherto been possible with ordinary heating plants.

FOUR IMPORTANT FACTORS

When air conditioning experts speak of controlling the quality of the air within an enclosure, they have in mind four important factors:
First, the temperature of the air;
second, the moisture content of the air; third, the cleanliness of the air;
fourth, the proper circulation of the air. In a sentence, air conditioning is the addition of humidifying, filtering, cooling and forced-air circulation to present methods of heating.

Now can this desirable state of affairs best be brought about in the average home? The great majority of Canadian homes are readily adaptable to air conditioning at a very moderate outlay. The most satisfactory installation is a direct-fired warm air furnace, preferably using gas fuel, with an evaporative cooling, atomizing spray-type humidifier, a circulating fan and a filter. All this may sound a somewhat elaborate piece of equipment to install in an average home, and one that will require the services of an expert to operate it.

As a matter of fact, this equipment occupies less space than the warm air furnace itself, and requires no attention. The best and most satisfactory air conditioning installations are those in which the furnace and the air conditioning equipment are built as a unit. However, the air conditioning unit can be successfully incorporated in most existing furnace installations in which a conversion to gas fuel can be made.

The house or other building equipped with an air conditioning plant reaps a double benefit, for not only are the conditions of the interior atmosphere made more available through the heating season, but in the warm summer weather the air conditioning unit can be operated to keep the house refreshingly cool.

Air conditioning today is rapidly being adopted in homes, hotels, apartment houses, theatres, churches,
schools, offices, trains, steamships,
and even motor coaches. Air conditioning also is being incorporated in many of the older buildings in conjunction with the present heating systems, thus bringing such buildings up to a thoroughly modern standard.

Old Geology Maps Much In Demand

Ottawa, Aug. 6.—Old geological maps and reports, some of them published as early as 1840, are playing a very active part in the present intensive search for gold across Canada's mineral front. Long since laid aside as of no further use, many of these old publications have taken on a new significance following the rise in the price of gold and the assistant efforts to disclose new sources of the metal, or to develop known sources in areas that had escaped intensive prospecting, or had been regarded as unworthy of serious attention.

The Bureau of Economic Geology, Department of Mines, Ottawa, reports a consistently heavy demand during the past two years from prospectors and engineers for copies of maps and reports published several years ago. The old-time prospectors recognized the value of maps and reports, but though he lacked nothing of the ingenuity of the modern prospector in making discoveries, the odds for finding a property into successful production have favored the present-day prospector. The price of gold has advanced nearly 70 per cent, metallurgical and mining practices have improved, and the financing of new properties has been greatly facilitated.

It is the rise in the price of gold that has been mainly responsible for turning the attention of prospectors and exploration companies to areas that had been formerly subjected to examination and development without material success, and it is largely the attention being given to such areas that is causing the present demand for publications issued several years ago. In certain of these areas, efforts to find and to develop new sources of gold have been particularly successful, and it is exceedingly of interest to note what geologists had to say regarding the possibilities of such areas years before a rise in the price of gold was thought of, and at a time when little enthusiasm existed as to the possibilities of the area.

The Little Long Lac area in Thunder Bay district, Ontario, affords a good example.

Dr. T. L. Tanton of the Dominion Department of Mines, after making an examination of this general area in 1917 reported: "There are no mines in the district, but there is a strong probability that valuable mineral deposits exist, and that careful prospecting is warranted. The general rock assemblage and the geological relationship are similar to those of the mineral-producing districts of Northern Ontario and the great variety of minerals, other than iron, discovered by a very little casual prospecting. Indeed, there are more discoveries might be made if prospecting were carried on intensively."

The schist complex, the predominant formation of the area, he regarded as favorable prospecting ground for gold, copper, lead and iron.
According to his report, the most promising sections for gold are: Along the railway between Beaudette and Jefferson, from the hills south of Windigo Lake to Attigong Lake, embracing a small granite area north of Point Lake, and the district immediately surrounding Little Long Lac. It is in the last named district that the important finds have been made.

London's foremost spot is the city hall, Westminster. It recorded 104 days of sun's rays between October, 1932, and March, 1933.

GARDEN FETE AT "WYCHBURY"

Lt. Governor to Open Garrison Church's Garden Party Wednesday

Visitors to the St. Paul's Garrison Church garden fete on Wednesday, August 8, can be assured of finding an afternoon's and evening's entertainment that promises to be "different." The Army and Navy have taken over the arrangements for the many attractions that characterize this annual function, as will be remembered by those who visited the fete last year.

The grounds of Major Piddington's home, "Wychbury," at 411 Lamson Street, Esquimalt, are peculiarly adapted to an affair of this sort, and the proceedings will be opened by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor promptly at 3 o'clock.

Amongst the many attractions that are being arranged, one of the most outstanding will be the interesting and colorful dances by Miss Grace Atfield and her talented pupils. Miss Atfield will be special request, performing the graceful "Butterfly Dance." By kind permission of the officer commanding, music will be supplied by the orchestra of the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade Band.

Tombola prizes on the entrance tickets, to be won by the holders of the three lucky numbers, are a ton of coal, a load of wood and five gallons of gasoline, all of which have been presented by generous donors. Two estimating competitions have been arranged, the prizes for which are on view at David Spencer's Limited and Salbury's store, Esquimalt, respectively. These tickets for these competitions are also on sale.

Gray Line buses will run a regular schedule from opposite the Dominion Hotel, Yates Street, to the fete grounds, starting at 2:30 o'clock, twenty-five cents return fare.

No effort is being spared to ensure this garden fete being one of the most attractive events of the season.

WOULD AMEND PENSIONS ACT

Legion W.A. Convention Asks Continuation of Payment to Widow

Canadian Press
Toronto, Aug. 6.—Amendment of the War Veterans Allowance Act will be sought by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion. A resolution to this effect was passed unanimously by the 250 delegates which attended the convention here.

The resolution suggested clause nine of the act be amended to read: "After the death of any veteran an amount exceeding the amount the recipient was receiving at the time of his death be paid to his widow so long as she lives unmarried or for the benefit of any child as long as it is deemed necessary by the committee."

Owen Sound was elected as the host of the 1935 convention, and Mrs. E. Ginn of Toronto was elected president.

Another resolution recommended lowering of the time for old age pensions, from seventy to sixty-five years.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDER

IT IS FLATTERING TO BE CALLED "FREE"

Many of my readers, after digesting my daily effusions, declare that they feel as if they actually knew me. Mrs. A. W. Williams writes me "Friend, a greeting is appropriate, and continues: 'I call you friend because after reading your advice for years, I feel as if I know you.'"

CONFESSION
"My baby is two months old. I am troubled with constipation and as I nurse the baby, of course that makes her constipated too. I eat kinds of laxative foods and now I want to know whether I should take a laxative in addition."

"The baby is good, and is gaining as she should. Should I use a suppository or a laxative for her?"

"Could you tell me what to do for cracked nipples? I no more than get them healed up before they get new, new places. I wash them before each nursing with boracic acid water. I am thirty-four and have two other children, but never had this trouble before. Is it due to age? My back aches so and my legs seem hardly able to support me. Is it because it is too soon to expect to feel better?"

NO CONNECTION
I would like to squash firmly the idea that baby's constipation is in any way linked with yours. It is not. Baby is an independent being. She is constipated because of lack of nourishment, or because you expect too many movements, or for some other reason. You are constipated because of what you eat, or lack of regular habits for evacuation. Breast milk is not constipating or laxative—it is just milk, and it is constipating to some individual baby only when there is too little to provide sufficient nourishment or to promote good elimination.

Be sure the gain is sufficient. If not, add a complementary feeding to baby's diet. You can start orange juice for baby. Avoid the use of laxatives or suppositories and the chances are the baby will never need them. Wait, even thirty-six hours, for baby to have a natural movement. You may take a mineral oil, which is a lubricant, constituting the laxative foods at present in the diet.

Use any good healing hand lotion or ointment on the nipples, washing before and after each nursing with soap and water. Apply boracic acid solution before each nursing.

Do not nurse often than once in four hours. Your life has to do with your present fatigue than the fact that you now have three children instead of only two and therefore probably a much more complicated household. At six weeks you should be back to normal in physical efficiency. Get more rest.

Married Flirts

"Come along, sweetie, let's get out of this!" That was Derek, frowning, looking at his watch. "We're riding a bit close to the wind." Lila's laughter rose higher and higher. They must all come to see them off. She vanished, appearing in a drowsy blue costume which effectively showed off her slender, rounded figure. She had a knot of green orchids for her silver hair, her make-up was a triumph. She looked drowsily young, sophisticated, amused.

The suite was packed to the brim with roses, with telegrams, exotic fruit in tall baskets. Derek glommed around, hands in pockets, waiting for the signal which would call the merry-makers ashore.

"Why not come along? Why not all of you..." Lila was forgetting the concert was her honeymoon. She wanted to make it a wholesale cruise.

As last they drifted away and the two were left to hang over the ship's edge alone.

"Happy, dear?" Her voice was decidedly pettish. Derek caught her hand. "We've come to make a go of it, haven't we, sweetie? Not like some of those others." If you listened closely you might have caught a note of anxiety in his voice. It was as if he pleaded for reassurance.

"What? Of, yes, of course!" Lila hardly listened. She had gone back into the brightly lighted room now, with its lamps and flowers and drawn silk curtains and a flowered rusted past her.

"Dear Gordon, madam!" There were some telegrams, more roses, more bouquets. Derek was being tireless. Lila decided, with all his solemn talk, she didn't see any sense to it.

The engines, far below, churned into life; a whistle whirled. Suddenly the big boat moved away from the pier. Lila was beginning for Lila and Derek.

The ferry carrying Gypsy and Tom, the shining little car, slipped through the warm September night. "Look, Tom!" Their car had been the first one on the boat, so they had a splendid view of the harbor. "Look, that must be—yes, it is the Empire. Lila's boat!"

The majestic ship, a fairy cargo of twinkling lights, moved on its way. The ferry rocked a little in the wash. Tom said, lightly: "You ought to be first to London and Paris, too, instead of to a little shack on Long Island."

"Why, you great big silly!" Lila widened her eyes at him. "As if I didn't love Wading Hallow! As if I'd give up two weeks there for London or Paris!"

"It's crude," Tom reminded her. "It's just dunes and scrub oak and water..."

Gypsy interrupted him to say something. "... and that delicious salty smell, and sunsets on the beach, and fish fries and lying for hours in the sun and being lazy..." why I love it, and you know it!

The young husband grinned at her. He was very flexible when that smile crinkled up his unbrooded face with its crown of hair, curling hair. "You're satisfied, woman, are you?"

"You're darn shouting I am." It was just as well Mrs. Morell wasn't around, to hear her daughter's choice of words.

The ferry bumped into the slip and Tom drove expertly off into the downtown streets of the city. They would cross another bridge, and find one of the main arteries which led down Long Island, and they would stop when they were tired, some hours later, at a pleasant little inn they knew, half-way down, for dinner. They planned to reach the beach house before midnight. There, everything had been put in readiness for them, by Tom's older sister, Rosina, who had a summer place several miles away. The wedding hollow place, cabin and some sort of a ground, was young Mr. Weaver's sole heritage. He had come into the property some years before on the death of a maiden aunt. Gypsy had spent several weeks there, the season before, under Rosina's chaperonage, and had fallen in love with the place.

"Rose said she'd put up new curtains," Tom said, cheerfully. "You won't know the shack, it's so drowsy up for you."

"If you've changed one stick of it," Gypsy warned him impressively, "I'll never speak to you again. It was perfect as it was."

Tom drove, one-handed fashion. His free arm held his small wife in his curve. They left houses behind, left the twinkling lights of the village, after their simple meal; they smelled the sweet scent of pine and salt water, they drove in the fields.

"Mummm..." That was Gypsy. "Don't you love it?" "We're almost there."

They turned into the dirt road and bumped over it gallantly. The moon made a track on the waters just ahead.

"How Mr. Weaver, ma'am." The little house waited for them, dark and silent and welcoming. Tom carried her over the threshold.

CHAPTER II

October, Gypsy thought, was exhilarating in the city. It was a season, it held a mood, which belonged to Fifth Avenue, with its well-dressed women, its silencing displays behind plate-glass windows.

Their little apartment, it is true, was a good long trek from the Avenue—five long blocks, in fact, but Gypsy had admitted it none the less and felt smart and urban because they now belonged in "the upper East Side" class. It was the first home Gypsy had ever known, other than the shabby manor house in Blue Hills. And it was so different in all respects, so compact and shining and modern.

They had decided against living in a made-over "walk-up," as those apartments which had been wrested from the interior of stately old brown-stone fronts are called in Manhattan. Both Gypsy and Tom were tired of old houses or thought they were, anyhow. The big, square, cream-colored block of apartments which they chose with its tiled lobby and self-steering elevator, seemed the best way in comfort and convenience to them. That is, it did until they first caught a glimpse of Lila's place. But I am getting ahead of my story.

Their own particular cubbyhole consisted of two rooms, a living-room and bedroom, and a kitchen and bath. The kitchen, in that quaint fashion known peculiarly to the New York apartment dweller, opened directly on the entrance hall, and the upper half of the door which closed it off was made of frosted glass. This distressed Gypsy mildly, but she numbered a handsome Japanese screen, all coiling dragons and flying birds, among her wedding presents, and this effectively hid the view from guests.

The whole place was finished pleasantly if unimpressively in a cream-colored plaster, marked off by imitation tile painting. Gypsy, used to the faded papers and liver-colored paint of the house in Blue Hills, thought it very modern and restful. She moved in on October first, the last day of their vacation, and hung pictures, pushed furniture about, and established in their spick and span glass which they triumphantly brought home from the ten-cent store.

During recent alterations to a plant at Burlington, N.J., workmen found a live bullfrog encased in the cement foundation, which had been laid in 1912.

Famous Actor du Maurier Was Big Earner, But Died Comparatively Poor

London, Aug. 5.—Sir Gerald du Maurier, the famous actor, manager and producer, died—It is stated on reliable authority—to make well over £10,000 a year by his work on the West End stage.

And now his will has been made public. It shows that he left not personally—that is, cash investments, furniture and so on—amounting to only £2,500 in all. The gross value of the estate was £18,051.

Dame Muriel du Maurier, the widow, is the sole executrix. Sir Gerald left his interest under his mother's will to Dame Muriel for life, and all his other property to her absolutely.

THE REASON WHY

It is not difficult to discover why Sir Gerald left such a comparatively small fortune.

That reason is: his boundless generosity. Sir Gerald liked to be paid in gold—good honest sovereigns—and the amount on which he slipped one of these sovereigns into the hand of someone in need, must be innumerable.

He was always working for, and giving to, the poorer members of his profession. And it is a profession with more needy members than any other.

Sir Gerald was also president of the Actors' Orphanage Fund, of the Actors' Benevolent Fund, and of Donville Hall, the home for aged actors and actresses.

It was curious that Sir Gerald, after earning so much during his lifetime should have left little—for his father's case was almost the opposite.

George du Maurier, Sir Gerald's father, was never well off until a short time before his death. Then he wrote "Trilby," which was a tremendous success, and left nearly £50,000.

"FIERCE" CHEESE DAYS RECALLED

"He-Man" Product, Aged in Ground With Wine, Not Seen Now in England

London, Aug. 5.—In the days of this generation's grandfathers, the real lover of English cheese, bought his Bilton for Christmas some months before midwinter.

He then wrapped it in layers of cheese cloth. After that, a hole was dug with great solemnity in the garden.

The cheese was buried, and was not dug up till shortly before Christmas. Then port wine was poured into it.

But these days of "he-man" cheese eating are gone—for ever, it is feared.

This was at once apparent to anyone looking at the cheese at the Royal Agricultural Show this year.

The cheese made to meet the demand to-day are milder and smaller than a few years ago.

The latest "fashion" in cheese is "Baby Biltons." They weigh only about five pounds.

Cheddar and Cheshire of from one and quarter pounds to six pounds were on show, but the grand old giant cheese which weighed a hundred-weight or over were absent.

There was nothing weighing more than about three stone, and the average weight of the exhibits was under half that.

SALT SPRING ISLAND

Ganges, Aug. 6.—The trustees of the Fulford Hall sponsored a dance Friday evening in aid of the hall fund.

"Bertie" Roberts' orchestra from Victoria provided the latest dance music. The trustees, Mrs. W. H. Lee, Neil McElroy and T. Isherwood, assisted by a committee of ladies, arranged the supper. During the evening a guest contest was won by Mrs. T. M. Jackson of Fulford Harbor.

Dr. W. J. McAllister has arrived on the island from Calgary to take up residence.

Mrs. L. G. Mount and her small daughter have been visiting Mrs. Mount's mother, Mrs. E. Carwell, in Victoria.

Mrs. T. Leigh Dr. Vancouver, has been a recent visitor to the island. She was the guest of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Neil McElroy, in Burgess Valley.

Mrs. C. E. Ahern and her daughters, the Misses Mollie and Dorothy Ahern of Fulford, have returned from a motor trip up-island.

Mrs. C. F. Roberts, Victoria, was a visitor to the island on Friday.

Mrs. Phillip Brethour, who, with her two daughters, has been spending a holiday at Vauxhall Bay, has returned to Sidney.

Mrs. C. A. Goodrich, Vancouver, left on Thursday for Vancouver, where Mr. Goodrich is a patient in the St. Mary's Hospital.

Comer Thomas of Abertidwr, Glamorgan, was, and all were glad he did.

For Mr. Thomas makes his living as a miner (town-crying is not lucrative), and has been out of work for a time.

Unlike the other competitors, he was a slow worker, and took a slow time to get his work done.

So the five guinea prize money went to the Thomas family. It meant that Mr. Thomas would get a new uniform back, and Mrs. Thomas would get a new dress.

A Parade of Ceaseless Work

... a sign of triumphant industry marching ahead; truly a thought to make us ponder, but our constantly fulfilled expectations have helped us grow callous to that upon which our daily bread depends! There is life behind it—the unending struggle for existence. An epic in which the whole range of human effort is loosed every day. Allied with it, we have the record of perseverance, high ideals, and a system of co-ordination which have taken generations of progress to perfect.

We have FIRST—the group who force the earth itself to give up its goods. SECONDLY—those who take this material and make, mould or pack it into the form which civilization demands. THIRDLY—the men who transport this merchandise to the widely-located distributing points...

AND FINALLY, the one basic medium which carries the news of all these many necessities into the home of the consumer—THE DAILY NEWSPAPER

Funeral of the Late Gilbert M. Hodges Will Take Place in East Next Saturday

The remains of the late Gilbert M. Hodges, who passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital on Saturday night, are being forwarded to-day to Montreal, his former home, where the funeral will take place on Saturday next.

A resident of Victoria during the last three years, the late Mr. Hodges was a familiar figure at the Empress Hotel, where he resided with his son, J. Kirkland Hodges, manager of the hotel. In good health up to a month ago, Mr. Hodges became ill necessitating his removal to hospital here. He was eighty years of age.

A native of Montreal, he was for many years prominent in the importing business and was widely known in the St. Lawrence city.

He is survived by three sons: J. Kirkland Hodges of Victoria and G. W. Hodges and D. D. Hodges of Calgary; also a sister, Miss Charlotte Hodges of Montreal.

BRITISH ARMY LOSING LURE?

By Reuters

London, Aug. 6.—In the film "Soldiers of the King," Cecil Court-neidge sang a song which began:

"There is something about a soldier That is fine, fine, fine..."

Girls' hearts have always been supposed to beat faster when the troops marched by.

But now some people are asking: Is the army losing its sex appeal?

The question was raised after the private view of the exhibition of military pictures at the galleries of Thomas H. Parker Limited, in Berkeley Square.

There are many contemporary prints showing the change of dress in the various regiments of the army, and the gradual evolution down to the comparatively sombre and straight-laced uniformity which characterises the present day dress of nearly all British regiments.

Once are the white breeches, cocked hats, colored tunics often heavily braided and fantastic head-gear.

Without doubt, the soldier of to-day is most suitably adapted to the conditions under which he has to fight. The soldier's invisibility is now his greatest protection, but once he had to be brightly dressed and easily distinguishable to prevent attacks by friend as well as foe.

Has the army of to-day, with its staid sombre khaki uniforms, heavy boots and caps or helmets lost the romantic appeal to women that from time immemorial has been its birth-right? Some people think so.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

THE SCREEN

"Spitfire" At The Playhouse

Pictured in the rugged grandeur of the highest peaks of the San Jacinto Mountains in California, Katharine Hepburn's latest starring vehicle,
"Spitfire," is now at the Playhouse
Theatre.

Pictured from the Broadway stage success, "Trigger," it is the story of a beautiful young girl of the Carolina mountains who is part girl and part devil. Taking literally the tests on cards which she has stolen from a Sunday school, she acquires implicit faith in the Inferno, and through this faith she undertakes to perform miracles of healing by prayer. She secretly ministers to her mountain neighbors, curing many of their ills, but her ungodly, godless, ungodly and ungodly, for the mountain folk believe her a witch.

Clever Comedy At the Empire

A typically English comedy dealing with the conservation following the discovery of a duke working as a footman in the employ of Lord Rannack, purports the kitchen because he was a gentleman's servant. In fact, he is so far from the position
as to hang up a photograph of the Hon.
Barbara Rannack, his employer's daughter.

When he is reminded of his place
he mentions the fact that anyone can procure such a photograph who uses the shilling and pence to purchase the magazine from which it is cut.

"Lost Patrol" At Columbia

"The Lost Patrol," RKO-Radio Picture drama of the war, starring Victor McLaglen, Boris Karloff, Reginald Denny, Wallace Ford and others of a powerful cast, is being shown at the Columbia Theatre.

Rifle Shooting

Pair six contestants took major honors in Saturday's shoot of the Victoria Rifle Association at Green
Spencer, performing for the fifth time the field with a ninety-eight and Mrs. Hugo Bayment, shooting for the Canadian Scottish, tied with Captain W. E. Tapley of the same unit for second honors two points below the leader.

Charlie Chan Story Coming

There is a new twist in "Charlie Chan's Courage," which will open at the Dominion Theatre to-morrow, that makes it different from any other Charlie Chan picture.

Warner Oland is even better than usual as the wily Chan. In order to track down his man, he has to wear a disguise for the first time in his career in criminology.

"Charlie Chan's Courage" is based on Earl Derr Bigger's novel, "The Chinese Parrot," adapted for the screen by Selton I. Miller, George Hen-den, directed by the picture under the supervision of Producer George Stone.

Altogether, this is one of the most unusual of the Charlie Chan pictures.

CAPITOL THEATRE

W. C. Fields' new comedy picture for Paramount, "The Old-Fashioned Way," is being shown at the Capitol
Theatre.

This comedy, which has for its theme the adventures and misadventures of an old-time stock troupe, presents Fields as a back-woods Barrymore, the manager, romantic lead and chief supper-club leader.

Barrymore, who played with Fields in "Tillie and Gus," has a featured role of the infant son of the town's wealthy widow, a lady who becomes infatuated with Fields.

Canadian Swimmers Continue Fine Showing At Empire Games

THE SPORTS MIRROR

SOONER or later there will be a re-form drive against golf as the wildest and most vicious of gambling games. They cannot spin the course before the little number one pop up, but otherwise it is very much like roulette on a large scale and even more uncertain. Take the case of Olin Dutra, the busy California amateur champion at Merion. He went up to Buffalo the other day and did not even qualify for the match rounds in the United States P.G.A. championship. There is no sense to a game like that. Olin was sick when he was playing at Merion. Every third hole he had to stop a moment, take a capsule as per his doctor's orders, and then proceed with his work of winning the open title from one of the best fields ever gathered to dispute the matter.

There was a rumor that he was sick at the start of the qualifying round in Buffalo and consequently the quest. Olin would have them in his wake again. But evidently his health improved in a hurry because his golf suffered horribly. He was not even close to qualifying. He was down with the "water" and strychnine and practically anonymous outsiders.

Long ago Chick Evans made a little speech concerning chess and golf. It was just after Francis Ouimet, suffering from a raging fever, had ousted Chick from the United States amateur championship of 1919 at Oakmont. Much was made of the fact that Francis was far from being a well man, whereas Chick was in the glow of the tournament by an invincible. "Oh, yes," said Chick with a sigh. "As a matter of fact, I never was beaten by a sick man. It's always some sick man who leaves a bed of pain to get up and wallop me. I blame it on the doctors. They shouldn't let their patients get up and roam around like that." Possibly Chick forgot the final at Westmont in 1912, where he was not a well man himself but lost to Jerry Travers, who was pretty healthy at the time. However, it was a mental condition with Chick. He was doing very well for himself until he kindly tapped Jerry's ball into the hole through ignorance of the rules. The shock was so great that he went into a coma and Jerry ran away with the match.

But sick or well, there is no form in golf, anyway. Henry Cotton took a 67 at Sandwick, followed it with a 68, and in a 72 and then was out of the 97 up to 79 for his staggering finish. Fourteen strokes difference between his high and low rounds, one day apart, was a record. In 1927 at Oakmont Harrison Johnston, an amateur, was leading the field at the halfway mark in the open championship of 73 and then was out of the 97 up to 79 for his staggering finish. In 1929 the United States amateur championship was won by Del Morris, who was a California amateur, and since that time has been playing around 80 on his good days. It could not happen in any other game unless a player suffered some such minor injury as a couple of broken legs or a touch of appendicitis.

A carpenter named Wallace could not find any work in June. He wandered over to Sandwick and saw the British title the following year at Muirfield, and since that time has been playing around 80 on his good days. It could not happen in any other game unless a player suffered some such minor injury as a couple of broken legs or a touch of appendicitis.

Roland Hancock, large and healthy, stood on the seventeenth tee at Olympia Fields, Chicago, in 1928 and the excitement of the assembly gallery that did not even know where he came from was that Roland could not find a hole in the hole. The par on the hole was 5, and on an easy 5, a lot of players had been making it in 4. If Roland had hit the ball over the hole, he might have won. But he took his club and squinted at the green, leaving Johnny Purnell to defeat Bob Jones in the play-off. Infinitely the mathematics have decided, is the point at

Bob Pirie Nosed Out By Ryan In Thrilling Duel

Forces Australian to Set New Record in 1,500 Yards Freestyle Final

Canadians Take 100 Yards Heats

Canadian Press Empire Pool, Wembley, Eng., Aug. 6.—Noel Ryan, Australia, staged a smashing comeback at the British Empire Games to-day to retain his 1,500 yards freestyle swimming crown in the face of a brilliant challenge by young Bob Pirie, Toronto. Ryan conquered the Canadian ace by a yard and a half in the record time of 18 minutes 25.4 seconds.

Pirie, the Australian decisively in Saturday's trial heat and he almost accomplished the feat again, but Ryan pulled into a big lead early in the grind and Pirie's sprint came too late.

Ryan's 1930 Empire record of 18:54.4 was lowered to 18:45.4 on Saturday by Pirie, but the Australian pulled it even lower in the final. Norman Wainwright, England, was third. Pinner, Rhodesia, was fourth, and Robert Hooper, Vancouver, fifth.

The third Canadian to qualify for the 1,500 yards final, George Larsen, Hamilton, swam from the final to give himself the sprint.

Larsen's 1930 Empire record of 18:54.4 was lowered to 18:45.4 on Saturday by Pirie, but the Australian pulled it even lower in the final. Norman Wainwright, England, was third. Pinner, Rhodesia, was fourth, and Robert Hooper, Vancouver, fifth.

Ben Gamell, Toronto, was entered in the 100 yards, but scratched to save himself for the 100 yards backstroke final, scheduled for later in the day. McCutty, Jamaica, and Taylor, Bermuda, also scratched their entries.

Warren Fry, Toronto, barely missed reaching the men's 100 yards backstroke final on Saturday. He finished fourth in a dead heat for second place with Scott, England, behind the Scot South African, George May. Fry and Scott swam off for the qualification heat, and the British won by a yard.

Doug McGary Wins Honors

Doug McGary, Victoria's well-known trapshooting star and holder of the British Columbia double championship, added further honors to his credit yesterday when he won the high over all honors in the Pacific Indian shoot held at Stanwood, Wash. The meet was under the supervision of the Pacific International Trapshooting Association.

LOCAL TEAMS WIN BASEBALL

Tillicums and Sons Defeat Port Angeles in Exhibition Fixtures Here

Victoria ball teams won both exhibition games with Port Angeles at the Athletic Park on Saturday. In the afternoon attraction the Tillicums set down the visitors 4 to 2, while the evening performance saw the Sons of Canada register a 3 to 2 decision. Both exhibitions were keenly fought and produced some first-class baseball.

Art Carr on the mound for the Tillicums in the afternoon hurled well to allow Angeles eight hits while he struck out three. Carr got himself into a hole in the ninth when the visitors filled the bases with one out but a snappy double play ended the game. Ely, who hurled for Angeles, allowed eight hits and whiffed seven. The Tillicums scored one run in the first inning and three in the sixth, while Angeles got a pair in the sixth.

A CLOSE GAME Scoring a run on a squeeze play in the seventh and final inning the Sons registered their lone-run victory. With the score deadlocked 2 to 2 the Sons tilted the bats and cut out Jack Bacon laid down a perfect bunt and Barnes romped across the plate with the winning run. The game was called at that stage on account of darkness.

The two teams played to a scoreless tie here Saturday in the second game of their three-game series.

Ky Laffoon Scores 289 to Finish Two Strokes Back of Victorious Tommy Armour; Three Tied For Third Position With 292's

Toronto, Aug. 6.—Tommy Armour held the Canadian open golf title for the third time to-day, and it was largely his consistency that enabled him to finish ahead of the starfield that has competed for the crown in years.

The Medalist, H.L. professional, who turned in a 69 Thursday and added a 73 in the second round, galloped around Lakeview's fairways in 71 and 74 Saturday for a 287 total that no one else could equal.

Ky Laffoon, Denver youngster who has been near the top in many recent United States tournaments, got second place with 78-71-71-78—298, and Willie MacFarlane, New York; Harry Cooper, Chicago, winner at Ottawa in 1932, and Pay Coleman, Culver City, Cal. were tied for third with 292's.

Armour, a veteran of the imperial forces, who lost an eye and suffered other wounds in France, took the title as thousands of former Canadian troops were staging their reunion a few miles away.

Diegel, a veteran of the imperial forces, who lost an eye and suffered other wounds in France, took the title as thousands of former Canadian troops were staging their reunion a few miles away.

Armour's great golf gave him the crown and the Riverbank Cup after almost everyone had conceded them to Lee Diegel Thursday. Diegel shot a 69 in the first round, while Armour had 69. It was figured that par golf or a little worse would keep Diegel on top. But he shot a duffery 80 in the second round and scored 71 and 78 Saturday for a total of 290.

Pay Coleman had worse luck than anyone on the course. He would have been only a stroke behind Armour if he had not run into trouble on the last hole of his final round. After losing a ball he carded an eight for a 72 and a 74 for third place. If he had shot the hole in a par he would have had 288.

Tillicums Meet Sons To-night

Renewing the battle they left in shyness with a 1 to 1 draw in a ten-hitter Saturday, Tillicums and Sons of Canada will clash this evening in a Senior Baseball League game at 6:15 o'clock at the Athletic Park. Lloyd Jones will start for the Tillicums and Lloyd Cann or Jim Proudlove for the Canadians. Wally Scott and Ray Barnes will be on the receiving end of the respective batteries.

THE BIG SIX

With the single exception of Heine Manush, the Big Six batmen had a profitable day at the plate yesterday, but none did quite so well as Lou Gehrig and Bill Terry. The two New Yorkers each made four hits in four trips to the plate and one blow for each was a homer. Gehrig's was a thirty-sixth slacker, Williams and Sons of Canada will clash this evening in a Senior Baseball League game at 6:15 o'clock at the Athletic Park. Lloyd Jones will start for the Tillicums and Lloyd Cann or Jim Proudlove for the Canadians. Wally Scott and Ray Barnes will be on the receiving end of the respective batteries.

Home run yesterday: Gehrig, Yankees; Ott, Giants; Berger, Braves; Tronky, Indians; Lammert, Yankees; Gehrig, Tigers; Terry, Giants; DeLaney, Cardinals; Gurocher, Cardinals; one each.

The leaders: Gehrig, Yankees, 26; Fox, Athletics, 24; Ott, Giants, 23; Johnson, Athletics, 20; Berger, Braves, 20.

League totals: American, 518; National, 504. Total, 1,020.

Shorty Earle to Be Married This Evening

Harold "Shorty" Earle, well-known trainer for Victoria football and baseball players, was to-day being congratulated on the event of his marriage to-night at the First United Church at 8 o'clock. "Shorty" has been working all summer as trainer for the Sons of Canada team in the Senior Baseball League, while last winter he was manager of the Seattle Thistles second division team in the Coast Football League. His many friends in local sports were to-day wishing "Shorty" the best of the luck and all the rest of it.

STORMY LATE EVENING On the services being card here Friday night, St. Peter's, N.M.C.B. Vancouver, carried a three-round decision over Lammert-Corporal Robert, Army Service Corps.

JASPER LINKS ARE IMPROVED

Popular Course in Splendid Shape For Totem Pole Golf Tourney August 26

Jasper Park Lodge, Alta., Aug. 6.—When the golfing army turns up to take part in the ninth annual Totem Pole tournament, commencing August 26, they will notice a great many changes on the golf course. These are mostly around the greens, and every change will be appreciated, as the changes have improved the play-ers' chances of getting the ball into the cup.

These changes were made last fall and early this spring and so quickly has the course responded that the whole layout is in the best condition it has ever been in. Fairways are rich and velvet; greens are sharp and true, with theonus now distinctly on the player, as all alibis must be left on the train.

Number three green was torn out and terraced to two levels, which greatly improved the view of the green for the second shot, as the green now faces the fairway centre.

GREENS ALTERED Number six green was levelled down to three different levels with terraces moulding into each other to give the green a very pleasant appearance and a much fairer putting surface. The entire surface of the green is visible from any part of the fairway and it will be one of the finest greens on the course.

Number eight green was remodelled with a less severe grade. The depression running across the front has been raised, making it a much easier approach for a ball played a bit short.

These three greens, together with numbers thirteen and sixteen, have all been seen to the new type of bent and have matted in splendidly. The grass has come through evenly and well and the course now contains eighteen fine putting surfaces.

Another fine improvement was made at number eight, too. This has been built up with a rock wall and the tee contains two levels. This greatly improves the driving position for those who preferred to stand well to the left.

The course came through the winter with barely a scratch of winter kill, with the result that the entire grass surface has matted thickly to afford a perfect lie for any shot on the fairway, whether it be wood or iron.

In other words, the Totem Pole trophy will be won by the man who plays his shots most effectively—the course will not be to blame for a miss.

Londos-Malcewicz Meet at Vancouver

Vancouver, Aug. 6.—Bill Klank Vancouver's well-known wrestling promoter, has arranged a great bout for Saturday here Thursday evening. When Jim London, New York, heavyweight champion, steps into the ring against Joe Malcewicz, Ottawa, P.E.I. The match is scheduled to go eight ten-minute rounds or less. The advance ticket sale opened to-day.

American League Race Still Keen

Detroit and New York Yankees Continue Mad Dash Toward Baseball Pennant With Victories; New York Giants Gain Half a Game on Chicago Cubs in National

A casual observer of the American League race might wonder how any rival could keep other teams from winning the pennant. Detroit's feat of winning the Chicago White Sox 7 to 6 yesterday to clinch a six-game winning streak which saw them register three shutouts and score thirty-seven runs in three games against Chicago might have been a clinching argument if it had not been for the way the Yankees gained a 3 to 1 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Lefty Gomez, who pitched a three-hit game his last time out, gave the A's only one blow, a rather fluky double by Jimmy Pons, and after an error had converted that into a run the Yankees came from behind when Tony Lameri smacked a homer in the seventh and topped it off when Lou Gehrig fouled a ball back for his thirty-sixth circuit swing of the year in the eighth. The blow, Lou's sixth in as many days, put him two ahead of Pons and kept him in front of Babe Ruth's record pace of 1927.

GIANTS ON RAMPAGE The league-leading New York Giants staged another spurge in the National League to increase their margin to three games over the Chicago Cubs with Cincinnati leading some aid.

While the Giants were downing the Phillies 4 to 0 on the combination of Ray Farnham's seven-hit fling, four straight hits, including a homer by Manager Bill Terry, and Mel Ott's twenty-ninth circuit swing, the Reds held Chicago to an even break in a doubleheader. Losing the first 4 to 1, Chicago came back with a 4 to 1 triumph.

Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis Cardinals 5 to 4 and 7 to 2. Cleveland's Indians took a 5 to 3 decision from the St. Louis Browns. Washington and Boston split a hard-fought game, the Senators taking the opener 3 to 1 and the Sox getting the other 7 to 3. Boston Braves and Brooklyn Dodgers divided games, Boston won the first 7 to 4, while the Dodgers took the second 5 to 1.

PAUL ROWE IS TRACK WINNER

Captures Junior Grand Aggregate at Vancouver Caledonian Games

Vancouver, Aug. 6.—Amid panoplies of stirring hits, varying tactics, skilful handling and the sweet smell of the heather in the air, the fourth annual Caledonian Games were held at Hastings Park here Saturday.

Out of a host of athletes track and field from all parts of British Columbia shone none more than Paul Rowe, a dark haired all-around athlete from the Vancouver Athletic Club, who was crowned grand aggregate champion of the meet.

Rowe, a contender in the jumping event, won the ladies' junior broad jump Saturday, lowered the Canadian record for that event with a 10-foot 6-inch jump, and the same event in place in the open high jump by a margin of ten seconds flat. Undaunted, brown-skinned youth went through the different events of the day, taking the junior 100-yard dash and the same event in place in the open high jump by a margin of ten seconds flat. PAUL ROWE STARS Of the outside competitors, Rowe, Victoria, stood out as cream of the athletes sent over from the big island of Vancouver. The Victoria lad proved his worth easily taking the 220-yard junior with a time of twenty-four and one-half seconds, and the same event in place in the open high jump by a margin of ten seconds flat. LOCAL FIFTEEN VICTOR Smiling James McMillan, Vancouver, collected still more laurels from the meet, when he showed his expertness in the playing of the game in the Strategists and reels for a prize of $100. The prize was voted the grand prize of the meet, and the winner was James McMillan, Vancouver.

Local Athletes Defeat Norfolk

Victorians Win Rugby, One Soccer Game, Polo and Water Polo; Sailors Take Football Engagement and Cricket Against Cowichan

Local teams turned back the invading forces of H.M.S. Norfolk in the week-end's sport fixtures, taking four victories and suffering two defeats. The Canadian football team defeated the visitors 14 to 2, at the Admirals Road grounds, Victoria's water polo team overcame the sailors 5 to 1, at the Crystal Garden, Esquimalt beat them in a soccer game at Bullen's Park and the Centaurs vanquished the visitors 4 to 2 in a polo game at the Foul Bay grounds on Saturday. Yesterday the Norfolk men staged something of a comeback to whip the Garrison 2 to 0 in a soccer match at Work Point, and on Saturday the team's cricket eleven overcame Cowichan by twenty-five runs at the upland ground.

Chuck Copeland's speed and scoring played a large part in the Victorians' victory over the sailors in the rugby engagement. The flashy winger went over for a pair of tries and assisted in a third.

The handling of neither team was up to scratch.

After the opening of the game, Lynn Patrick and Copeland got away on a nice run that ended when the latter slipped across the line for the opening tally. The kick failed.

MAKES OPENING

Before the interval, Copeland again broke away and made an opening for Stewart to carry the ball over. Again the try was not converted.

Lynn Patrick ran through on a nice individual attack to raise the score to 6 to 0 before the half time whistle sounded.

Although they lost Stevens through a leg injury, the Norfolk boys bucked in during the second half and played all out in an effort to cut down the "badlanders' lead."

Copeland went across for his second try of the day, and Art Chapman converted to make the count 14 to 0, just before Johnson, sailors' fullback, was taken off.

Kenny Lawson Has Fine Round of 67

In scoring his 67 yesterday Lawson was playing in a foursome with Stan Porter, Brian Jackson and Stan Garrett. Going out Lawson registered a 35, even par, and on the second nine scored a 32, three under perfect figure.

His card follows:

Out . . . 444244243-35

In . . . 444244243-32-67

16th Canadian Scottish—Beckfield, Colgate, Billingsley, Anderson and Copeland; Lynn Patrick; halves, Derry Tye and Bob Tye; forwards, Sweetman, Corbin, Campbell, Gander, Muss Patrick, Purdie, Rockingham and Art Chapman.

H.M.S. Norfolk—Beckfield, Johnson, Cronin, Thomas, Oline and Brown; halves, Harris and Brown; forwards, Jowett, Vincent-Jones, Pounder, McKeith, Coles, Stevenson, Davis and Williams.

At Bullen's Park a trio of goals by Mike Wagland, "Scotty" Stewart and Pavin proved too much for the Norfolk, giving Esquimalt a 3 to 2 victory in the soccer match Saturday.

The dockers were full value for their win, dominating the first half when they registered all their tallies, and playing well in the second.

Wagland opened the scoring shortly after the start when he tricked his way in and shot home a hard drive. Stewart and John Watt missed shortly after, the latter swept through to test De Costa, but the Esquimalt goalie proved safe.

Twenty minutes from the start, Pavin closed in from the wing to send home the second counter and Stewart tallied before the rest interval.

After two good attacks in which Stewart and Watt featured but were unable to finish, King finally got away to score for the Norfolk. H. Brown added another to the sailors' total half an hour after the resumption of play.

Line-up: De Costa, Joe Watt, V. Hicks, Ray Severney, McBay, Pavin, Stewart, John Watt, Wagland and Warner.

H.M.S. Norfolk—McEwan, Davis, Smith, Kerry, Turner, McClellan, Chaff, King, Ferguson, H. Brown and Neuman.

Scoring one goal in the first chukker and running in two more in a smart fourth chukker tally, Victoria's Centaurs overcame the Norfolk polo team at Foul Bay Road grounds, 4 to 2.

Play speeded up in the third chukker, each team scoring once to give Victoria a 3 to 1 lead, while in the fourth the game became even faster as the local side rolled in two more goals and the Norfolk broke through the locals' defence to register their second counter.

Raft Associated With Rosenbloom

Los Angeles, Aug. 5.—George Raft, seven star, told today he had purchased a half interest in Raftle Rosenbloom, light-heavy-weight boxing champion, for "about $10,000."

Raft, himself a former fighter, said he would coach Rosenbloom in a fight Wednesday with Victor Goetz at Oakland.

Raft and Rosenbloom were friends in New York.

ICE DOGS TO OPPOSE ARMY

Line-up Strong Club For Charity Baseball at Beacon Hill Wednesday

With the Ice Dogs, under the leadership of George Strath, having announced their line-up arrangements for the charity baseball game at Beacon Hill Park on Wednesday evening between them and Gen. Bill Cox's Army were complete. Play will start at 6.15 o'clock, and another big time is assured. The Ice Dogs have been out practicing every night and according to reports are in great shape for the battle.

The line-up of the former puck hounds as announced to-day follows: Catcher, Chet Bowman; pitcher, Len Woodhouse; first base, Lynn Patrick; second base, Percy Watson; shortstop, Louis Olsson; third base, Alex Strath; outfielders, Jim Stewart, Vic King and Al Miller. Ralph Alcock, famous ice comedian, is acting as trainer of the team, and will be on hand to put any ailing "wings" in condition.

LES PATRICK TO PLAY

In addition to the usual rivalry between the teams, there will be a little family competition between Lester Patrick and his son Lynn. The senior member of the family will be playing first base for the Army, while his son will hold down the same position for the Ice Dogs. In his last game with the Army against the newspaper all-stars, Lester had a little trouble with his batting eye. Since that time, however, Les has been out in the backyard with his eye and swing back to form, and he predicts a perfect batting average Wednesday evening.

The entertainment for the game will include several songs by Abraham Corrie, the "Jewish Nightingale." A wrestling match will also be put on between the Masked Marvel and an unknown opponent.

Grain Prices Soar To New High Levels

Chicago, Aug. 6.—All deliveries of every kind of grain shot upward late today to new top price records for the season.

Reports of rapidly increasing damage to the United States corn crop and to the Canadian wheat crop appeared to be mainly responsible for waves of speculative buying that swept into the pit.

Wheat scored a maximum gain of 4 1/2 cents, and closed unsettled 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 cents above Saturday's finish. December new 1900 to 1 1/2, corn 1 1/2 to 3 1/2 cents advanced, and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to a rise of 13 cents.

The Winnipeg Grain Exchange was closed today on account of a local holiday.

MARKETING BOARD TO BE ANNOUNCED

Ottawa, Aug. 6.—Announcement of the personnel of the marketing board to be made by the Dominion Government before the end of the present week. Announcements regarding the approaching Dominion loan, and the progress being made in organizing the central bank are also expected reasonably soon.

Closest care is being taken in deciding on the new bank of Canada notes. Eventually these notes will take the place of all Dominion bank notes, but that will take several years to bring about. Tenders will be asked for producing these notes, which will be much smaller than the Dominion notes now in circulation—in fact, a dollar than those used in the United States. Appointments of the governor and to other key positions of the central bank have yet to be made.

FEDERAL LOAN
 The new Dominion loan will likely be launched about the middle of end of September. Hon. C. H. St. John, Minister of Finance, hopes to get away to Nova Scotia the end of this week and will likely have arrangements for the loan well started before he leaves.

Word comes the loan will be considerably less than indicated earlier.

Veterans Again Swear Loyalty To Empire

Men of Canadian Corps Join in Great Reunion Parade and Service in Toronto

By W. W. Murray, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 6.—Pledging themselves to the service of their country in an oath re-affirming the lofty principles for which they fought in Canada's war twenty years ago, the veterans of the Dominion Sunday continued their memorial reunion with a parade devoted wholly to the remembrance of their dead comrades.

Riverdale Park, a natural amphitheatre, was the locale of a church parade at which the veterans once more listened to the exhortations of a padre who, in France and Belgium, established for himself a shrine in the hearts of the troops. Veterans Archdeacon Scott of Quebec delivered the sermon, and in forthright language set before the thousands who heard him the message of duty which the veterans still owe their country.

UNUSUAL SPECTACLE
 Distinguished by their berets, the divisions lined up, preserving their old discipline, still the magnificent old fighting men whom their country is proud to honor. The spectacle was one of a lifetime. They were a little bit greyer, their veterans of Canada; perhaps their wind was a little shorter, they were in general somewhat wider around the waist but their old indomitable spirit was there.

On Saturday evening they had their reunions. Their "remember when" stories had all been told. Jovial, good-natured, filled only with the joy of meeting again the comrades who between 1914 and 1918 had marched with them, fought with them, bled with them and had engaged in all the glorious escapades which are the natural accompaniment of soldiering, the troops were moved off to their quarters, leaving only the veterans to be remembered.

BETTER TONE AT MONTREAL

Canadian Press
 Montreal, Aug. 6.—Although losses held a majority, a better tone was in evidence among issues on the Montreal Stock Exchange at the close today.

International Nickel on news of the declaration of a regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents a share, 5 cents above the rate paid in the first two quarters of the year, recovered from 23 to 24 where it closed with a gain of 1/4.

Hollinger rose 25 cents at 10.00, while Canadian Pacific Railway was up 1/4 at 12 1/2 and Lake of the Woods and B.C. Power were also up, small amounts. Canadian Traction lost 1/4 at 8 1/2 and Montreal Power held unchanged at 23 1/2, and Shawinigan Power closed 1/4 at 19.

CARRIERS OFF ON BOND MART

Associated Press
 New York, Aug. 6.—Persistent selling of railroad issues and heaviness in U.S. governments were the outstanding features of the bond market in the late trading today.

The carrier loans most affected by the flow of offerings included those of Allegheny Corp., Baltimore and Ohio, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Nickel Plate, Southern Pacific and Southern Railway, which were down from 1 to 2 points.

The obligations of the International Telephone and Telegraph, Postal Telegraph, and Western Union, which showed little realy power, industrial issues were mixed.

Treasury issues were lower all along the line with last hour prices from 2-3/8 to 7-3/8 below the previous close.

Foreign bonds were generally steady in light trading.

Believed Several Other Men Killed in Explosion in Pit in Virginia

Associated Press
 Big Stone Gap, Va., Aug. 6.—The known death toll from an explosion in the Derby number three mine of the Stone Coal and Coal Company stood at nine at noon today.

Two men had been brought out alive and were taken to the Stone hospital for treatment. Several other bodies were believed to be still in the mine. Seventy-five other workers escaped after the explosion occurred.

The bodies had been recovered by Lawrence Plesner and Walter Bayless were brought out alive and were taken to a hospital for treatment.

Artificial respiration was resorted to in a vain effort to save some of the others.

Many bodies remained in the mine and the names of the men could not be stated immediately.

Rumor Of Inflation Blocks Sharp Drop

Associated Press
 New York, Aug. 6.—The inflation bug bugged into the stock market today and checked a rather sharp decline which had depressed several issues to new lows for the year. Most of the early loss was regained, as non-ferrous metals issues rose one to five points in a quiet market.

The close was irregular. Transfers approximated 800,000 shares.

Stocks absorbed a flurry of selling in the first hour which depressed a number of leaders one to four points, some to new lows for the year. The rise in wheat carried the May delivery above $1.12, a new high for the season. Bonds were somewhat soft, along with stocks.

Aside from firmness in Dome and McIntyre, Canadian shares were unsettled. International Nickel eased. Stream Walker lost more than a point. Lake Shore was more resistant. The Canadian dollar was up 1-3/8 of a cent at 1.01 to 1 1/2 cents.

An early drop of about four points in Union Pacific and two in Santa Fe and U.S. Steel carried those issues to new lows for 1934. Recovery of a point or so from the worst followed.

American Telephone, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, General Motors and Chrysler dipped about a point. A mid-day rise in the non-ferrous metals carried U.S. Smelting up a couple of points above Saturday's close, and McIntyre and Dome advanced more than a point. American Smelting more than recovered an early sag of a point.

BOND LOTTERY ILLEGAL HERE

Sale of Belgian Issue Brings Suspended Sentence in Vancouver

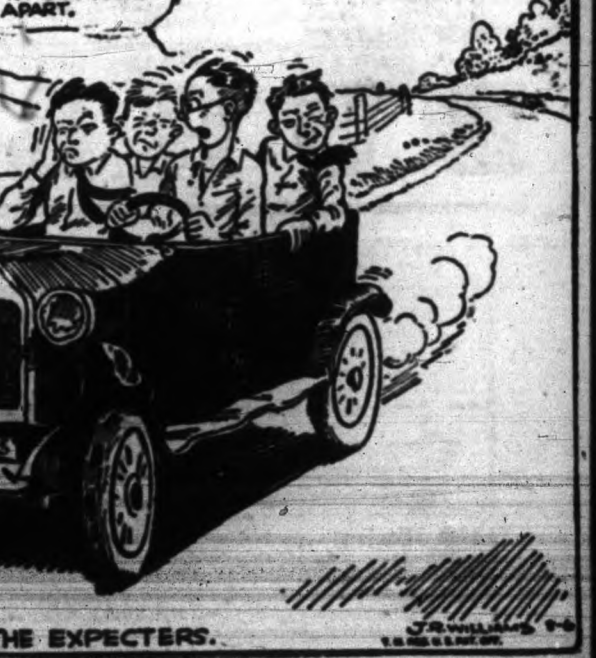

Canadian Press
 Vancouver, Aug. 6.—An unusual form of lottery was exposed in police court here when Albert Key pleaded guilty to carrying on the operating of a lottery and was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

Key, it was alleged, assisted in the sale of Belgian government bonds which carried lottery prizes.

The bonds were for approximately $40 each and were payable over a period of twenty-six months. Draws were to be held by the Belgian government and prizes amounting to $50,000 were to be distributed to lucky bondholders.

City Prosecutor C. Orr stated that while the scheme was perfectly legal in Belgium, it was not in Canada, and the scheme came under the same ban that applied to other lotteries and sweepstakes. He said he would suggest a suspended sentence for Key, as the man had acted under the guidance of barristers, who had wrongly advised him when they declared the scheme was legal in Belgium.
